

A SMALL CRIST

Was Ground at Last Saturday Evening's Adjourned Session of the Common Council.

The council met in adjourned meeting, last Saturday evening, Mayor Barker presiding and Ald. Brill, Cook, Maine, Cushman, Kieliszewski, Dumbleton and Phelps in their seats. A petition from F. A. Degen asking permission to remove the building now occupied by C. Krebs & Bro. as a hardware store, from the public square to the corner of Clark and S. Second streets, on the corner opposite the Jas. Gray store, was read and granted. The Wisconsin Central company asked permission to remove the Pabst warehouse and office from Clark street over to Main on the Central property, and the petition was granted with the condition that the buildings be bricked up and iron roofs placed thereon. C. O. Loberg was granted a license to retail spirituous and malt liquors, and R. H. Miesing & Co. were given a pharmacist's license.

Bills of Frank Wheelock for money advanced to pay men and teams, $71.14 for digging the sewer across public square and down N. Second streets, and $141.48 for grading First street and N. and S. Second streets, were presented and allowed.

Ald. Maine, Brill and Dumbleton were appointed to canvass the vote cast at the special school bond election, held on the 16th inst. They found that the total number of votes cast were 356, and of this number 240 were for the loan and 116 against, leaving a majority of 124. The official returns, it will be seen, makes the majority 36 more than published last week. In the 4th ward there were 49 votes for the loan and 31 against, instead of 31 for and 49 against. In the 6th ward but 22 votes were cast, 11 for and 11 against, instead of 22 for and 22 against as previously reported.

Gets One Year.

Wm. McCall, who was arrested for stealing watches from the jewelry store of D. A. Agnew, at the South Side, was brought before Judge Bardeen, at Waupaca, on Monday, and sentenced to one year at Waupun. Sheriff Leahy took McCall to Waupun today. Judge Bardeen has been holding court for Judge Webb this week.

Finished for the Season.

The work of dividing logs at the Stevens Point boom, and delivering the same to the mills of the city, has been completed. The season has been a very short one, the shortest in the history of the boom, but the water and weather have been most favorable for good work. A. J. Cunneen and David Whitney have been running the boom, and they are well pleased with the outcome. Between seven and eight million feet were divided and delivered, besides an additional quantity that passed through in rafts.

Tom Thomson Coming.

Evangelist Thomson, the noted southern temperance orator who is conducting a crusade against intemperance and vice through this state, will deliver a series of his wonderful lectures in the churches of this city, commencing next Tuesday, July 30th, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Following is the order of the meetings: Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Presbyterian church; Thursday and Friday evenings in the Baptist church; Saturday and Sunday evenings in the Methodist church. Mr. Thomson is said to be far removed from the ordinary temperance speaker. The truths he will prove will have its effect upon the people who hear him. As a speaker he is very attractive and never fails to draw large audiences wherever he goes. Mr. Thomson preaches temperance from the gospel standpoint, and leaves all political questions out. All seats free. Doors open at 8 o'clock.

A Very Narrow Escape.

The hostler employed at the Wisconsin House is the owner of a small sized, innocent looking revolver. He has no particular use for the weapon, other than to scare away prowling felons when they disturb his midnight slumbers. For some time past, the hostler has occupied a berth in the stable office, and last week placed the revolver beneath the bedding, where, he supposed, it would not be found by anyone. There is where he was mistaken, for on Saturday afternoon two little four year old boys, one the child of Frank Degen and the other of Mrs. Louis Pfeiffer, went into the office and it was not long before the Pfeiffer boy had the revolver in his hands. The curiosity of both was soon aroused, and soon a shot rang forth, the ball grazing one of the Degen boy's arms. The little fellows were so close together that the powder burned the arm along the wrist. Both were naturally greatly scared, and the escape from more serious consequences was indeed a narrow one.

False and Malicious.

Some worthless gossip, being evil-disposed or otherwise, started the report last Sunday afternoon that Dr. Trimble, a former resident of this city, but now of Waupaca, had crossed the narrow bridge leading to the happy hunting grounds, and the road had been carved by his own hands. The report became quite general on Monday morning, when THE GAZETTE telephoned to Waupaca to ascertain what there was in it. The answer was as expected, that the Dr. was alive and well, as happy as ever, and we venture the assertion that he would lay aside his good nature long enough to shake up the dry bones of that gossip could he or she be found out.

The Humane Society.

A special meeting of the Humane Society was held at the Hesperus Club rooms, last evening. The report of the treasurer showed a small balance on hand, and that of Agent Stitt set forth what had been done in his line, including the number of arrests, etc. Miss Ethel Dille was elected as assistant secretary, the terms of other officers having not yet expired. Another meeting will be held on the 20th of August.

JUDGE WEBB DECLINES.

Will Not Accept the Supreme Court Vacancy Recently Tendered by Gov. Upham.

Hon. Chas. M. Webb, of Grand Rapids, will continue to act as judge of the 7th judicial circuit. The announcement that he would not accept the appointment recently tendered him as a justice of the supreme court, was made yesterday, and it was received with quite general satisfaction and but few regrets. No one regretted this determination on the part of Judge Webb for selfish or personal motives, only that they would have been pleased to see him serve the people in so important and prominent a position. In this city there were two candidates for the supposed vacancy, J. O. Raymond and D. Lloyd Jones, and both of them were confident of success, in case a vacancy occurred. Mr. Jones is on a tour to the Pacific coast, and Mr. Raymond expresses himself as being well satisfied with Judge Webb's decision, saying that while he had felt most confident of being the latter's successor if the opportunity had presented itself, still he would lay aside any personal ambition that he might have and most sincerely approve of the action taken.

Judge Webb's letter of declination was written on Monday last, and his refusal to accept is for personal reasons. The main reasons are that he is well satisfied with his work as circuit judge, and prefers to continue his home where he has spent the latter half of his life. The letter is as follows:

Grand Rapids, Wis., July 22.—Gov. W. H. Upham, Executive Office, Madison, Wisconsin.—Dear Sir: On the 12th instant I addressed to your Excellency a letter acknowledging the receipt of your commission, bearing date the 11th instant, appointing me a justice of the Supreme court to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of the late Chief Justice Orton, and asking, for reasons therein stated, a few days' time in which to consider and determine the question of its acceptance. Having meanwhile given the subject most thorough and impartial consideration, I am compelled to decline the great honor so generously tendered me. In reaching this conclusion I have neither forgotten nor disregarded my duty to the people of the state, nor my great and lasting obligations to the people of the north, in particular, and to many friends elsewhere in the state, for their unwavering confidence and support at all times freely given; nor yet my sense of profound gratitude to your Excellency personally, for the unsolicited and unexpected honor which your action has done me. I have remembered all these, and considered them fully, but find them overborne by considerations of a personal and private character, important only to myself and those who hold my first and greatest obligations, but which are paramount with me, and command me to decline the proffered advancement. I feel sure that the many friends in the state who have urged me to accept the appointment will agree that I am the best judge of what is my duty under the circumstances, and will concur in the conclusion reached.

Firmly believing that the action here resolved upon will prove to be wisest and best for all interests involved, and again thanking your Excellency for the confidence which your official action in the matter under consideration implies, I have the honor to remain, very respectfully, CHARLES M. WEBB.

TWO HORSES CREMATED.

The Barn of Emmons Burr Destroyed by Fire on Monday Night.—Heavy Loss and Small Insurance.

Emmons Burr's barn, situated just in the rear of his home on Division street, was destroyed by fire last Monday night, and of five horses occupying stalls in the building, two being gotten out uninjured, two being burned to death. Another had the hair and flesh on its shoulders so badly burned that it will take many weeks of treatment to pull the animal through. The fifth horse was slightly burned about the shoulders and neck. Mr. Burr also lost a buckboard and the wagon used for delivering coal and other heavy goods, while Mrs. Burr's buggy fell a prey to the fire demon. Several wood and coal stoves, dozens of axes, peaves and other lumbering utensils were stored in the barn and were burned or rendered useless. Seven sets of harness, several tons of hay, a quantity of oats and many other things usually found in a well equipped stable also went up in smoke. Mr. Burr went to bed a few moments before the fire broke out and by the time he had donned part of his clothes and got outside, the whole upper part of the building was ablaze. Jas. Rodell was one of the first on the scene, and to him is due the credit of liberating the horses that were not suffocated. The fire was undoubtedly the work of some scoundrel whom hanging by the thumbs would be too humane a death. Thos. Hyde's insurance agency carried a policy of $850 on building, horses, etc., but this amount will not nearly cover the loss.

Considered the Protest.

In our last issue it was stated that Fred. Dewey, one of the Stevens Point riders who went to Wausau, was not pleased over the treatment he received in the three-minute bicycle race. In answer to this, the Central says: Mr. Dewey must be a young man exceedingly hard to please. His protest was given all the attention by the judges and referee that any rider could reasonably ask. Both parties were called up to the stand and closely questioned, and the evidence of other riders who were disinterested was taken and carefully considered. As there was nothing in the evidence to warrant the protest, it was not sustained. And inasmuch as the management never offered a pair of tires in connection with the pennant race, there is nothing remarkable about the fact that they were not forthcoming.

Charged With Electricity.

Electricity played some queer pranks in this city, last Thursday evening. During the storm, an alarm of fire was turned in, a small blaze being discovered by someone over the entrance way to the H. D. McCulloch Co. store. The services of the department were not required, however, as it was only the insulation of the electric light wires that was on fire. Manager Bronson and Supt. Sustins were notified, and after looking over the situation thoroughly, they concluded to turn off the current and cut the wires. In the meantime, however, the iron pillars along the entire block had come in contact with them, three or four citizens received severe shocks, one young man, Frank Hoffman, being thrown several feet and alighting on his back on the sidewalk. A couple of dogs who had more curiosity than discretion, were sent howling along the street as though they had received a charge of shot.

Coal for the Normal.

The John Rice & Bro. Co. will furnish 250 tons of coal for the Normal School. In accordance with a notice from Regent Raymond, five of our local dealers presented bids on Monday, that of the above company being the lowest. They are to deliver the coal at the school building for $5.90 per ton, not less than one-half by Oct. 1st, and the balance when wanted. The quality is to be of the best, Lackawana or Lehigh, or their equal. The bids ranged from $5.90 to $6.25 per ton.

Bicycle Races Sept. 6th.

Bicycle race day at the Great District Fair will be on Friday, Sept. 6th, instead of Aug. 30th, as heretofore announced, the fair having been postponed a week. At this time some $350 in prizes will be given to bicycle riders. The prizes will be very fine, much better than are usually given for a one day's contest, and many of the fastest riders in the state are expected to take part.

Were Taxed Before.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—In your last issue of July 17th is the statement that bicycles will be taxed this year for the first time. For the benefit of all readers, and especially for those unfriendly to bicyclists, I wish to say that bicycles have been taxed here for the last two years, and that Stevens Point was the first place in Wisconsin, (and I think in the U. S.) to place a tax on bicycles. BICYCLIST.

CURRANS ARE VICTORS.

The Match Game Between Curran House and Hotel McGregor Nines Ends in Defeat for the Latter.

There was a most interesting game of base ball, at the fair grounds, last Friday afternoon. It was arranged by L. E. McGregor on one side and John Curran on the other, and was advertised to represent the batting and catching ability of the boarders, managers, etc., of those two popular hotels. No admission was charged to the grounds, but still the number who witnessed the game was limited to less than two hundred, indicating that Stevens Pointers take but little interest in base ball, no matter how good the game may be played. This is not as it should be.

The Curran House nine was composed of Forest Grant, Robt. Finch, Jos. Quinn, Fritz Krembs, John Campbell, Ed. Norton, Robt. Taylor, John Curran and Henry Sitherwood. Mike Ward, W. J. Hilbourn, John Corcoran, Joe Ash, Chas. Whereat, L. E. McGregor, Will Dignum, Chas. Vallencourt, Fred. Weston and Fred. Holman composed the McGregor ten. No one doubts for a moment that everyone of those mentioned above are good boarders, but there has been a seeming disinclination to believe that some of the young men put up at a hotel, especially for any great length of time. Be this as it may, most of them are superior ball players, professionals in some instances and above the average as amateurs in all. There was some good playing on both sides. At the end of the 8th inning, the game stood 17 to 16, in favor of Hotel McGregor. The latter nine then went to bat, but failed to score. The Curran nine then took their places at the bat. One man was soon retired, and the interest was waxing warm, so warm in fact that some of the players became a little "rattled" and the game was possibly lost to the McGregor team as a consequence. Taylor scored, followed by Curran, thus giving the Curran nine 18, to 17 for their opponents, and the game came to a close. There were some fine points made on both sides. After the game, the victors were given a most bountiful supper at Curran House, the best being none too good at that hospitable board. Following is the score:

McGregor	Curran
Runs.....	18
Hits.....	17
Errors.....	2
Left on base.....	10
Stolen bases.....	1
Double plays.....	1
Strikes out.....	10
Balks.....	0
Time.....	1:15

Score by Innings.

Curran	McGregor
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Dogs Despoiling Graves.

Much complaint has been heard about dogs trespassing among the cemeteries of this city, and those employed at the Episcopal cemetery, Chas. Schwieler and Mr. Lytle, are determined to resort to desperate means to stop the nuisance, if necessary. Graves have been despoiled, flower beds robbed of their beauties, and holes dug among the grassy plots. The nuisance has been going on for some time, and if the owners of dogs who are in the habit of wandering about, fail to find them in the near future, the cause of their sudden disappearance may be surmised.

Kind Words Spoken.

Stevens Point Post: Our best wishes to the Gazette, which entered last Wednesday in the 18th year of its existence.

New London Tribune: The Stevens Point Gazette is rapidly reaching the age of manhood, having just past its seventeenth birthday. While the Gazette is still in its teens, the course it has taken in local and general affairs, earns it the right to full-fledged manhood.

Wausau Herald: The Stevens Point Gazette starts out with this week's issue on its eighteenth year. The Gazette has earned the undisputed right to "live on" and Ed. Glennon, its editor and publisher, has undoubtedly placed the people of Stevens Point under obligation to him for giving one of the very best weekly papers in Wisconsin.

Solid Brick Addition.

J. H. Moffitt & Co. are building a brick addition on the rear of their business block. It is 22x35 feet, two stories high, and the first floor will contain card and reception rooms and a water closet. Chas. Wollenschlager is doing the mason work, and W. L. Playman has charge of the carpenter work.

Some Excellent Music.

The Amphion band, of which Dell Wright is the efficient leader, favored our citizens with a most pleasing open air concert, last Saturday evening. This band is composed of good musicians throughout, and as now organized, they compare favorably with any medium sized band in the state.

Best a Favorite.

Maggie Sherman failed to win in the Janesville race in which she took part, last Thursday. This was no fault of the great racer, nor her driver, but was due to the fact that unfair means were resorted to by others in the race, who kept her on the outside of the track in every heat, determined that another horse should carry away the first money at all hazards. This kind of racing was resorted to not only on Thursday, but other days as well, and the judges and parties interested have been severely censured. Maggie and B. B. P. go at Detroit this week.

Prof. Allison Dead.

Prof. Samuel A. Allison, leader of the orchestra that has furnished delightful music in this city so many times within the past few years, died at his home in Fond du Lac, last Friday night, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis. Prof. Allison was 49 years of age, and had lived at Fond du Lac for thirty years. He was a most jolly man, having a pleasant word for all whom he met, and to hear his clear, musical voice, and look in his bright, laughing eyes, would make one feel happy for having had the opportunity of being in his presence. All will regret his sudden death.

RAYMOND FOR JUSTICE.

A Movement on Foot in Favor of J. O. Raymond for Supreme Court Justice. A Good Selection.

Now that Hon. Chas. M. Webb has declined to accept the vacancy on the supreme court bench, the name of Hon. Jas. O. Raymond is mentioned among the most prominent and able attorneys in the state for the position still vacant. Everything that has been said in favor of Judge Webb, can also be said for Mr. Raymond. For years he has been recognized as one of the best counselors in Northern Wisconsin, his advice on knotty questions of law being sought at all times. Mr. Raymond is still an active man, both physically and mentally, and is only a couple of years older than Judge Webb.

Northern Wisconsin is entitled to this appointment, and if the bar and people can unite on some one, it will undoubtedly come to this part of the state. There are now two Democrats, Finney and Winslow, and two Republicans, Cassaday and Newman, on the supreme bench. The new appointee will be a Republican. This is certain, and as Mr. Raymond has always been a member of that party, this is also in his favor. The Wisconsin river valley, and the whole northern part of the state, should rally in his behalf, and by so doing success seems certain. While Mr. Raymond is not a candidate for the vacancy as the word implies, and will make no effort in his own behalf, we feel certain that he would accept the appointment if it were tendered him.

Married at Waukesha.

Walter J. Murray, of this city, and Miss Tessa Rice, of Waukesha, were married at the home of the bride on the 11th inst. Rev. W. G. Millar officiating. Miss Emma M. Rice assisted as bridesmaid, and A. C. Ludington as groomsmen. After the ceremony, which occurred at 8 o'clock in the evening, an elegant supper was partaken of, and thereafter the young couple took an early train for Milwaukee, where they remained a few days. They will be at home at 401 Park avenue, Waukesha, after Aug. 1st.

The groom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murray, is now in the employ of the National Telephone Co. and makes his headquarters at Waukesha. He is an electrician of ability and experience, a wideawake, generous young man, and his scores of Stevens Point friends will be pleased to see that he has taken so important a step. The bride is a daughter of the present superintendent of the Industrial School at Waukesha, but formerly of Portage. Congratulations are herewith freely extended.

Had a Close Call.

Matt Adams, of Chicago, came up last Monday evening and will spend two or three weeks here, visiting his brother, Adam. While driving in a funeral procession, a couple of months ago, Matt's horse was frightened by a short distance Mr. Adams was thrown out on the hard pavement. He was then run over by a butcher's wagon and two carriages in the procession were piled on his prostrate form. Although no bones were broken, his left side was badly bruised and in fact his whole body bruised so much that he lingered between life and death in a hospital for several weeks, his rugged physical constitution and expert medical treatment pulling him through. His left arm is still practically useless and he suffers considerable pain about other parts of the body, but after breathing Wisconsin's fresh air for a few weeks, he will no doubt greatly improve.

A FAMILY REUNION.

Pleasant Meeting of All Members of the Corrigan Household After Years of Separation.

One of the most notable events in the history of our town, was the family reunion at the pleasant home of Mrs. James Corrigan, in Lanark, on Monday, July 15th, 1895. From a family of 14 children, nine, all that are living, were present. It would be difficult to portray the feelings of sadness and pleasure intermingled in that social gathering. The enlarged portrait of the beloved father and husband, as well as those of the five brothers and sisters already passed over the river, but too plainly told of the missing forms and vacant chairs which more forcibly than ever impressed a realization of the fact on those present that sooner or later others from the family circle would be called hence, and that only in eternity would all be recognized where the pangs of sorrow and separation never occur.

The oldest child present was Mrs. Lizzie Gray, aged 48; the youngest Miss Lettie, now 20. Different portions of Wisconsin were represented by members of the family, and lovingly clasped hands, with the wandering son and brother, from Texas. Affectionate congratulations were extended to the aged mother, who is now 67 years of age, but in full enjoyment of health.

Mrs. Corrigan, as well as being the mother of 9 living children, has also 32 grand children and one great grand child, nearly all being present. Presents were exchanged, accompanied by loving words, giving expression to the eventful gathering, with also reference to the past, present and future.

The most notable transaction of the day was the transferring of the individual shares by the heirs of the estate to the mother, and she in return making a conditional transfer to her son, Ed. F. Corrigan, reserving protection for herself, single daughter and son, Willie. The fact of the deed being made in favor of Ed. was a most commendable act indeed. Carried from Stevens Point when but an infant, his entire life has been spent (much of it in hard labor) on the old homestead. He has been the main stay and comfort of the mother in her declining years, and always the wise friend and brother of those whose comfort was ever one of his first consideration. It was an act of justice to one who is in every way deserving.

The associations of the day were interspersed throughout with music, both vocal and instrumental. Following were those present: Mrs. James Corrigan, Mrs. Lizzie Gray and family, Lanark; Prof. J. E. Corrigan, Stevens Point; John R. Means and family, Wausau; Thos. J. Brown and family, Almond; Mrs. Matilda Ryan and family, Buena Vista; Ed. F., Wm. S. and Miss Lettie Corrigan, Lanark. Besides the relatives, J. H. Brennan, of Stevens Point, and A. J. Lea, of Lanark, were present. At a late hour nearly all departed for their respective homes, realizing when they said good bye to some that the next greeting would be in the world beyond. Lanark, July 15th, 1895. **

Census Returns.

County Clerk Lane has received official census returns from the following towns, and we give the result, together with the number of inhabitants each contained five years ago. It is impossible to give the 1890 returns from Pine Grove, as the total for that year was included with the town of Grant:

1890 1895

Hull..... 1,432 1,477

New Hope..... 1,002 885

Pine Grove..... 501

Plover..... 1,793 1,224

Stevens Point..... 1,065 895

A Special to Phillips.

The Wisconsin Central will run a special train between this city and Phillips, next Saturday, on account of the grand celebration up there. The special will leave this city at 6:30 a. m., Marshfield at 7:26, Abbottsford at 8:05, Medford at 8:33, arriving in Phillips at 10:00 a. m. Returning will leave the "Queen Inland City" at 1:00 o'clock Sunday morning and arriving here at 4:55 a. m. Special trains will also be run from Ashland and Eau Claire. At Chippewa Falls a private car containing Gov. Upham and other notables will be attached to the Eau Claire special, meeting the Stevens Point train at Abbottsford. One fare for the round trip—$3.27—will be charged from this city. Excursionists may go upon the regular trains, on the 26th or 27th, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. All tickets good to return as late as the 29th.

A Lawn Social.

The Young Ladies Sodality of St. Stephen's church will give a lawn social, next Wednesday evening, July 31st, at the home of P. Leonard, 818 Clark street. Ice cream and cake will be served throughout the evening, and all are respectfully invited.

SWEET
CAPORAL
CIGARETTE

ABSOLUTELY PURE
THE OLD RELIABLE
SWEET CAPORAL
CIGARETTE

Has stood the Test of Time
MORE SOLD THAN ALL OTHER BRANDS COMBINED

More Locals

—Go to the Cheap Cash store.

—Mrs. O. H. Lamoreux is visiting with her son, Chas., in Milwaukee.

—An elegant new line of spring goods have just been received by Krutza, the tailor.

—Miss Clara Welsen, of Weyauwega, has been visiting with her aunt, Mrs. N. Aich, and cousin, Mrs. A. G. Green, for a few days.

—Clarence Bellinger, who handles baggage on the Central, between Milwaukee and Rugby, returned to his work on Monday after a ten days' vacation.

—You can always find the freshest of groceries at Geo. J. Leonard's, on Clark street. He is making especially low prices on canned goods at present.

—A. G. Hamacker started for Springfield, Ohio, last Wednesday noon, in response to a telegram announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Wm. Otstot.

—Burglar and fire proof safety deposit boxes for rent by the Citizens National Bank. Prices, $3.00 per year and upwards. The only burglar proof deposit boxes in this part of the state.

—Choice family groceries, as well as canned and bottle goods, flour and vegetables, can always be obtained at the lowest cash prices by calling upon Theo. Johnson & Co., the Strong's avenue grocers, Prentice block.

—Edward Corrigan, of Lanark, visited with his brother, Geo. H., in this city, the last of the week, and while here made this office a pleasant call. The farmers of his sections are all happy, owing to the recent rains.

—The H. D. McCulloch Co. is headquarters for paints, oils and wall paper, they having one of the finest and largest stocks in this locality. They carry nothing but the best and purest in paints, and guarantee every can sold.

—John Wysocki, of Polonia, whose store was recently burned, has received $2,100.97, this amount having been decided on by Mr. Wysocki and the adjusters, last Thursday. The insurance was carried in Thos. Hyde's agency.

—Rasmus Hanson, the merchant tailor at 110 Strong's avenue, over Johnson & Co.'s store, has just received his spring stock. It comprises the finest goods and latest spring styles and should be seen before ordering elsewhere.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good. If you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest, or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at John Cadman's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.00.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctors remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints. —Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by H. D. McCulloch Co. jy

C. Krems & Bro., established 1863.

At their store on public square you will always find a full stock of general hardware, tinware, stoves, ranges, lawn mowers, plows, cultivators, pumps, ropes, fence wire, mill supplies of all descriptions, etc. All orders for roofing and other tin and sheet iron work promptly executed. Also agents for the celebrated Boynton furnace. If Located Near the Normal.

A fifteen room house, together with three lots, close to Normal School, for sale on reasonable terms. Enquire at this office. jy2001

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS

Of the Common Council.

Council chambers, city of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, July 12, 1895.

At a special meeting of the common council, held July 12, 1895, His Honor J. L. Barker the mayor presiding. Present, Aldermen Baker, Karner, Peickard, Maine, Cushman, Kleiszewski, King, McGreeby, Ellenwood, Dumbleton and Phelps.

The chief of police returned the call for the meeting, showing personal service upon each of the aldermen of the city except alderman Cook, who was absent from the city, and on being read showed that the meeting was called for the purpose of acting upon the resignation of city clerk J. E. Rogers, and for the purpose of filling the vacancies occasioned thereby.

The resignation of J. E. Rogers as city clerk read and on motion alderman Cushman the same was accepted.

The resignation of R. F. Baker as alderman of the First ward read and on motion alderman Phelps the same was accepted.

The name of Louis Brill was presented to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. F. Baker as alderman of the First ward.

Ayes—Aldermen Karner, Peickard, Maine, Cushman, Kleiszewski, King, McGreeby, Ellenwood, Dumbleton and Phelps—10.

Nays—None.

Louis Brill declared elected alderman of the First ward to fill vacancy.

The name of R. F. Baker presented for the office of city clerk and on motion alderman Karner he was confirmed by the following vote:

Ayes—Aldermen Karner, Peickard, Maine, Cushman, Kleiszewski, King, McGreeby, Ellenwood, Dumbleton and Phelps—10.

Nays—None.

R. F. Baker sworn in as city clerk by the mayor.

On motion alderman Karner the mayor was authorized to accept and approve the bond of R. F. Baker as city clerk.

On motion council adjourned until Saturday, July 20, 1895.

Attest: R. F. BAKER, City Clerk.

Specimen Cases.

R. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight months standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Bayswain's legs; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by John Cadman, druggist.

Stock and Property For Sale.

My house and two lots on Strong's avenue, and about 35 acres of good city property; also my stock in the John Rice & Bro. Co.

JAMES RICE.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by H. D. McCulloch Co. jy

To the Retail Lumber Trade.

The South Side Lumber Co. claim to have the most complete stock of lumber, lath, shingles, sash, doors, blinds and mouldings for the retail trade in Stevens Point, and will not be undersold. When going to build, or in want of anything in their line, call and get their figures. jy

THE COMMON SNAIL.

An Air Breathing Creature That Can Live on Indefinitely Without Air.

The common snail has lungs, heart and a general circulation and is in every respect an air breathing creature. This notwithstanding, he can live on indefinitely without inhaling the least atom of air—that which is usually considered the essential to existence in all creatures supplied with lungs. Loeppert says, "To all organized creatures the removal of oxygen, water, nourishment and heat causes death to ensue." When that statement was made, he does not appear to consider the snail as one among the great host of "organized beings," for the experiments made by Professor Spallanzani prove that any or all the usual life conditions can be removed in its case without terminating its existence or in any way impairing its functions.

It is a fact well known that the common land snail retreats into its shell on the approach of frosty weather in the fall, and that the opening or mouth of the shell is hermetically sealed by a secretion which is of a silky texture and absolutely impervious to both air and water. In this condition it is plain that he is deprived of three out of the four elements of life mentioned by Loeppert—viz, air, water and nourishment.

Taken after he has been thus handicapped for months, he may be plunged into a chemical mixture 100 degrees colder than the degree marked at Fahrenheit's zero and allowed to remain in that chilly solution for weeks. Yet as soon as restored to normal temperature life is renewed, and the snail soon regains his natural powers, slips the silken curtain from his house door and begins to feed as naturally as though just awakening from a winter's sleep. Spallanzani kept a snail of the great helix family hermetically sealed in a glass tube, from which all air had been carefully removed, for a period of four years and two months, yet he declares that the creature retained all its normal functions within less than an hour after being exposed to a temperature of 90 degrees.—St. Louis Republic.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever, Sore, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money returned. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by John Cadman.

(1st pub. July 17—4 line.)

TAKEN UP.

Came into the enclosure of the undersigned, town of Plover, five miles west of the village, red color, out in ten ear. The owner is requested to call, prove property, pay charges and take the same away.

Dated, Plover, Wis., July 15th, 1895. LOUIS GROSS.

DAN EMMETT AND "DIXIE."

How the Famous Minstrel Wrote the South's Favorite War Song.

Great songs, like great men, are usually of very commonplace origin. "Dixie," the war song that thrilled the hearts of fully 1,000,000 Confederate soldiers and sailors was a "walk around," written and composed on a rainy Sunday by America's first "nigger minstrel," Daniel D. Emmett.

DAN EMMETT.

Such a song should have been the work of a southern man and should have been composed in the very heart of the sunny south in the ordinary fitness of things, but Dan Emmett was an Ohioan, and "Dixie" was written and first sung in New York city, which furnished thousands of the very first troops that went to the front to crush secession.

Daniel Decatur Emmett, old, poor and broken in health, is still living in a little house near Mount Vernon, O. He made a great deal of money in his days of popularity, but he spent it as fast as he got it. Now he lives alone in his very modest board shanty and devotes most of his time to his chickens, his pet cat Chippaluchia and his Bible. He was born in Mount Vernon Oct. 29, 1815, and received a very limited education. From early boyhood, however, he played the fife and violin by ear and displayed marked talent for music. He also possessed a very pleasing voice—the voice that afterward won him fame and fortune.

He left school at an early age, became a journeyman printer, and for a time traveled with a circus as a teamster. In 1834, when a mere boy of 19, he enlisted in the regular army, and for 14 months was flier in a company of infantry. He next ran away with a circus that showed in Cincinnati and drifted to New York, where he worked on newspapers during the winter and in summer traveled with circuses. One evening Emmett, Francis Marion Brower, William Whitlock and William Ward Pelham gave an entertainment at their boarding house in New York and sang negro songs.

To heighten the realism Emmett suggested that they black up with stove soot. They did so, and their modest minstrel show was so successful that they gave a public entertainment at the Virginia Minstrels in Chatham theater. This, the first minstrel show, was a terrific hit, and Emmett's notable career as a black face artist began. While with Bryant's minstrels he composed numerous "walk arounds," among them "Old Dan Tucker." One day in the spring of 1859 Jerry Bryant wanted a new "walk around," and Emmett hurriedly composed "Dixie." It was first sung in Mechanics' hall, New York; it caught the fancy of the people, and when Sumter was fired on the soldiers of the Confederacy adopted it as their war song.

A PRETTY DOCTOR OF SCIENCE.

Carol Baldwin is a Marvel of Erudition and Knows How to Cook.

Miss Carol Willard Baldwin, the first woman to receive the degree of doctor of science at Cornell, is a prodigy in mathematical erudition, but she can cook and keep house as well as the next girl. She was born in San Francisco June 30, 1869, and is a pretty young woman with gray eyes, dark hair and a clear, creamy complexion that has baffled the wrinkling tendencies of years of laborious mathematical study. Her mother was a teacher and was ambitious that her daughter should receive an excellent education. According to her, after Miss Carol had been graduated from the Santa Cruz high school as valedictorian with highest honors, she spent a year studying French and Latin, music, painting, elocution and cooking and then entered California State university, where she studied early and late for four years before she was graduated, third in point of merit in a class of over 60, and was the first woman to receive the degree of doctor of science from the College of Mechanics.

After graduating she taught school for five months and then returned to the State university for post graduate work in science. The professors considered her a marvel and encouraged her in her ambition to pursue scientific work in some eastern college. She entered Cornell in 1893, and on May 29 of the present year took her final examination. For four hours three learned professors gave her scientific knowledge a severe test and then told her she could have her degree.

"I left the room," she says, "with a queer, weak feeling about the knees and ankles, but with the sublime consciousness that I had neither cried nor fainted," surely a great triumph for one of her sex under the trying circumstances. Despite her unusual learning she is a gay companion and is as interested in the frivolities of life as she is in physics and mechanics.

Men of great resolution have frequently rather large teeth, with a development of the jawbone in the center amounting to a projection and producing a noticeable fullness there. This characteristic is increased in the subjects who combine it with straight and rather long eyebrows. Arching eyebrows are always a sign of a more easily moved nature.—Kansas City Times

GREAT MEN AS LOVERS.

Bismarck and Napoleon Were Both Impetuous Wooers.

Bismarck was not in his younger days devoid of the Napoleonic art of writing love letters. He was an energetic wooer, whose stern will bore down the opposition of the parents of his beloved.

The lady was the daughter of Heinrich von Puttkamer, a rich Nether-Pomeranian landlord. Her parents were very unwilling to allow her to wed young Bismarck, who in those days showed more signs of being a mere brute guzzling and meat destroying giant like his great-grandfather, whom he so much resembled, than the first statesman of the continent.

For Bismarck was a sad dog as a young man. He liked everything big—big pipes, big dogs, big stews of beer, big carousals, especially the latter—and was considered no fit match for the daughter of a plous house. Not the least of his offenses was the record of over 80 duels fought in his student days, for he was a famous swordsman as well as a shot.

Princess Bismarck probably next to the chancellor's mother it was who made him a great man. She had a serious view of life, a quick wit and plenty of intelligence. In his correspondence Bismarck addresses his wife as "My Heart" or "My Beloved Heart." He sends her jasmine from Pterhof, heatherbells from Bordeaux and edelweiss from Gastein. He reminded her on the sixteenth anniversary of their wedding that it was she who "brought sunshine into his bachelor life."

Bismarck's declaration of love was made upon a garden seat in the grounds of the ruined castle of Harzburg, once the seat of Henry IV, who went to Canossa, and on that precise spot now stands the monument with the inscription, "Nach Canossa gehen wir nicht."

Napoleon's love letters, to judge from one among the many which have been preserved, were as fine as the dispatches with which he soon began to electrify his soldiers and all France.

"I awaken full of thee," he wrote to Josephine; "thy portrait and yester eve's incense. Sweet and matchless Josephine, how strange your influence upon my heart! Are you angry? Do I see you sad? Are you uneasy? My soul is moved with grief, and there is no rest for my friend, but is there, then, more when, yielding to an overmastering desire, I draw from your lips, your heart, a flame which consumes me! Ah, this very night I knew your portrait was not you! Thou leavest at noon. Three hours more and I shall see thee again. Meantime, mio dolce amor, a thousand kisses, but give me none, for they set me all afire."—Philadelphia Record.

BIRDS AS BAROMETERS.

A Well Known Writer Who Holds That They Are Not Weatherwise.

In his charming book, "Recent Rambles," Dr. Charles C. Abbott gives some little attention to the question whether birds can realize the coming of a storm so far in advance of its actual appearance as to serve observant man as a reliable barometer. Although this has been popularly believed for centuries, Dr. Abbott thinks that it has no basis in fact and voices his opinion in these words:

"It needs but a short ramble in the woods and fields after a summer shower to see how painfully destructive are moderate wind and rain when they rush across the country hand in hand. There is no more touching sight in all nature than the lowly murmured plaint of nest birds as they contemplate, after a shower, their ruined home and drowned fledglings.

"To credit a bird with weather wisdom and yet with no power to guard against probable danger is to assume that it leads the terrible life of one in constant fear—a mental condition the bird's daily life fully contradicts. Never does the world look brighter than a few hours before some great change. Never are the birds more merry, mammals more full of play; yet the impending storm means mischief to some extent might be averted had these happy creatures but an inkling of what was coming."

Five Miles Up to a Snowstorm.

There is little to suggest a snowstorm in the appearance of the aerial curls and feathers that are named by meteorologists cirrus clouds. But Dr. A. Benson during a lofty balloon voyage in Germany passed through a cirrus cloud at a height exceeding five miles and a half and found that it consisted of small but perfectly formed flakes of snow. It was a little snowstorm floating high in the sky. If it had descended earthward, it would have been turned into mist or rain.

During this voyage, which was one of the most extraordinary balloon trips on record, Dr. Benson attained a height of very nearly six miles. He would undoubtedly have lost consciousness—as Mr. Glashier did in his still loftier ascent many years ago—if he had not resorted to an expedient which reminds one of the ingenious devices of some of Jules Verne's extraordinary heroes.

Dr. Benson carried with him bags of oxygen and breathed this gas, mingled with air, after he had attained a height where the atmosphere was too light for comfortable respiration. He found that above 28,000 feet he could not dispense with the use of oxygen from his bags.

The temperature at the highest point that he attained, 31,496 feet, was about 54 degrees F. below zero. If at this time he had floated over the world's loftiest mountain, Mount Everest in the Himalayas, he would have been nearly 2,600 feet above the highest point of that tremendous peak.—Youth's Companion.

Half Price.

"It is not without cause that the term 'hard headed' has so often been applied to the residents of rural districts in New England. Not long ago a dusty, tired looking man presented himself at the desk in the one hotel of a New England town and said he wanted a room till 6 o'clock the next morning.

"I've not my supper, and I shall be off before breakfast," he said gravely to the clerk. "Now, what would be your lowest price for a room to sleep in?"

"Fifty cents, if you leave at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning," was the reply.

"Well, now, wouldn't a quarter make it just about right, then?" said the wayfarer, producing a battered 25 cent piece. "You see, I'm all excited up traveling, and I don't expect to sleep more'n half the time I'm in there!"—Youth's Companion.

Large Teeth.

Men of great resolution have frequently rather large teeth, with a development of the jawbone in the center amounting to a projection and producing a noticeable fullness there. This characteristic is increased in the subjects who combine it with straight and rather long eyebrows. Arching eyebrows are always a sign of a more easily moved nature.—Kansas City Times

HOW TO BECOME A RUNNER.

One of the Most Wonderful Remedies For the Whole Body.

Running is one of the best of exercises for the whole body. It rounds out a low chest, drives the oxygen into the farthest air cells of the lungs, wonderfully increases their capacity and develops the leg, thigh, stomach and waist muscles. But it must be learned, just as skating, swimming and bicycling have to be learned, and there are two things that must be kept in mind by the learner.

The first is—whether in sprinting, distance or cross country running—to run entirely on the ball of the foot, or, as they say on the track, "Get upon your toes!" By striking on the ball of the foot, which is a sort of natural spring board, the runner takes a longer stride and the spring that he gets enables him to lift his foot more rapidly and repeat the stride more quickly than the runner who goes flat footed. As length and rapidity of stride are what give speed in running, it follows that a flat footed runner can never be a fast one.

Another reason against pounding away flat footed is that the delicate mechanism of the ankle, knee and hip is jarred and may in time be injured.

The second point for a runner to observe is his method of breathing. Breathe through both the nose and mouth. Nearly every boy when he first begins to run has the insane idea that all the breathing must be done through the nose. There was never a greater mistake. When a boy runs, his heart beats much faster than it does ordinarily and pumps out just so much more blood. All this must be aerated or purified by air from the lungs. The oppression that one feels when beginning to run is due to the lungs demanding more air for the extra quantity of blood which the heart is sending out. Nature has looked out for this and provided a way by which air can be furnished to the lungs very rapidly. It is a very simple way and consists of merely opening the mouth.

Breathe, then, through the nose in ordinary life as much as possible, but when you are running or exercising violently open the mouth and take in air in deep, rapid breaths, not gulping it in through the mouth alone, but letting the mouth and nose have each its share. Take as long a stride as possible, but without overbalancing the body. Bend the body slightly from the hips, for if it be held too erect the stride will be shortened. Let the bent arms swing easily and naturally a little above the level of the hips, swinging out and back with every stride. This keeps the muscles loose, prevents them from becoming tired so easily as they would if held rigid and balances the body better. Take special pains to keep the body from being stiff, let it swing as easily and lightly as possible.

In sprinting the stride is shorter and more rapid than in long distance running, and a sprinter usually runs with body thrown farther back, in quite different form from the long, easy lope of the distance runner.—S. Scoville, Jr., in St. Nicholas.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. July 22—Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds, croup and whooping cough. It is pleasant, safe, and reliable. For sale by H. D. McCulloch Co. jy

Coal! Coal!!

This is a good time to place your orders for next winter's coal. E. M. Copps is again selling it this season, and as low as the lowest. Speak or drop a line to him, or step in to Cadman's drug store. jne26tf

BIG PROFITS on Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED CAN BE MADE BY OUR

Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by a systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success. For further information address

THOMAS & CO., Bankers and Brokers,
241-242 Rialto Building, CHICAGO, ILL.

TELEGRAM, CLEVELAND, SPALDING, CRESCENT

Bicycles

* They Lead the World for Strength, Beauty, Lightness, Perfection in Finish and Durability in all parts. Don't buy before calling.

H. D. McCulloch Co., Agents.

After THREE MONTHS of Daily Wear

This Collar

Is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 25 cts. and it cost the wearer nothing afterwards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are water-proof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not got the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give size, and state whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY.
427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Coal! Coal!! Coal!!!

I am now prepared to take orders for coal for the coming season, the same to be delivered at any time after the 1st of August. The patronage of the public is solicited. Come and see me before placing your orders. Now is the time to buy.

A. G. GREEN.

Diseases unfriendly to woman are positively cured by Dr. Sawyer's Pastilles. Ask your druggist for a free sample package. It heals and cures. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Ladies—Dr. Sawyer's Pastilles are effective for female weakness, pain on top of the head and lower part of the back. It strengthens and cures. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Children with pale, bluish complexions, indicating the absence of the requisite red globules in the blood should take Dr. Sawyer's Ukatine. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Pale, thin, bloodless people should use Dr. Sawyer's Ukatine. It is the greatest remedy in the world for making the weak strong. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Experience and money cannot improve Dr. Sawyer's Family Cure, because it radically cures Dyspepsia, Liver complaint and Kidney difficulty. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Indapo
Made a well Man of Me

INDAPO THE GREAT HINDOO REMEDY CURES RESULTS IN 30 DAYS. Cures all Nervous Diseases, Falling Memory, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Spasmodic Pains, Stomach troubles, gives vigor and also restores old men in old or young. Shells carried in pocket. Price $1.00 a package. Six for $5.00 with express. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co. If you are suffering, but insist on having INDAPO, if your druggist has not got it, we will send it prepaid. Sendal Medical Co., Free, Chicago, Ill., order agent. SOLD by John Cadman, Druggist, 419 Main St., STEVEN'S POINT, WIS., and other leading druggists.

TELEGRAM, CLEVELAND, SPALDING, CRESCENT

HEADERS FOR BICYCLES

TELEGRAM, CLEVELAND, SPALDING, CRESCENT

TELEGRAM, CLEVELAND, SPALDING, CRESCENT

TELEGRAM, CLEVELAND, SPALDING, CRESCENT

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria has been adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ASCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eruption, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARDES, M. D., 125th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

JOS. GLINSKI, Merchant Tailor,
North-east cor. Public Square, Main St., Stevens Point, Wis.

Elegant New Goods
always on hand, and all work cut and made by the best workmen to be obtained.
Satisfaction Guaranteed Every Customer and orders from near and far solicited.

F. W. GIESE THE TAILOR

Is always prepared to make the finest Suits and Garments on short notice and at most reasonable rates. A large stock of seasonable cloths always on hand. Call and get prices before ordering.

Shop 1000 Division St., South Side, opposite Burr & Son's store.
F. W. GIESE.

MERCHANT TAILORING.
Anton Peplinski,
Fashionable
MERCHANT TAILOR
keeps constantly on hand a full stock of
Foreign and Domestic SUITINGS.

THE BEST OF WORK AT LOWEST PRICES GUARANTEED.
Give us a trial order and we will please you.
Remember location, in the King & Furkus Brick Block, Public Square. Up stairs.

He Always Leads!
TEOFIL KRUTZA,
the fashionable
MERCHANT TAILOR,
412 Main Street.

None but first-class tailors employed, and satisfaction guaranteed to all. A large line of the Best Cloths to be obtained in the market kept in stock, and suits or garments made on short notice.

John Schmitt,
—THE—
FINE ART TAILOR,
Opera House Bldg.,
STEVENS POINT, WIS.

A specialty made of fine dress suits, and customers can always select from an immense stock of the best seasonable goods. Satisfaction guaranteed.

LOUIS PORT,
Manufacturer, Wholesaler and Retailer of
FINE CIGARS.
A nice line of
TOBACCO, PIPES, CIGAR HOLDERS, ETC.
Constantly on hand.
THE "L. P." CIGARS A SPECIALTY.
Factory on Strong's Avenue.

AUGUST DEMKA,
Proprietor of the
THIRD STREET BAKERY.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Biscuits, Crackers, Confectionery, etc., etc.
Fine Wedding Cakes Made to Order.

"The public can be accommodated with a first-class and excellent lunch at any and all times during the day or evening."
3d Street, Stevens Point, Wis.

A LARGE BAKESHOP.

IT TURNS OUT TWENTY MILLION LOAVES OF BREAD A YEAR.

Two Thousand Barrels of Flour Consumed Each Week—New Machinery Is Used in Making Bread—An Army of Night Workers in the Big Brooklyn Concern.

The largest soft bread bakery in the world is located in Belfast, while the next most extensive plant of the kind is located in Brooklyn. What is meant by the term "soft" bread bakery is that nothing but bread is baked on the premises. Crackers, sea biscuits, pies, cakes and the almost endless variety of products of the average bakery are not made in this establishment, which is located at the corner of Harrison avenue and Rutledge street.

Some idea of the magnitude of the business can be had from the statement that from 164 ovens the product of 2,000 barrels of flour is distributed each week in this city, New York and the vicinity. This is at the rate of 104,000 barrels per annum and signifies the baking of 56,000 loaves of bread per day, 892,000 loaves per week, 1,784,000 per month and the enormous total of 20,440,000 loaves every year.

The employees of this establishment, with the exception of a few who knead and bake the rye bread output, are included in the great army of night workers, who toil while the average citizen is resting from the labors of the day. To partially supply the million of people who do not make their own bread, but who depend upon the baker for the staff of life, over 800 people are employed in the various departments. So quietly and systematically is the work performed that the casual passerby, hearing no noise, and seeing no evidence of stir about the premises, can form no adequate idea of the busy scene which takes place nightly beneath his very feet, not can he conceive the appearance of the place when the white aproned bakers are at work.

The first relay of workmen makes its appearance at 8 o'clock in the morning. These are the men who set the sponge for the following night's work. At 5:30 the men who work exclusively on rye bread come on duty and remain until 6 in the afternoon. These two gangs constitute the entire day force. To these men is delegated the duty of getting everything in readiness for a large force of bakers, who make their appearance at 6 p. m., when the real work of the establishment may be said to begin. The flour, which will soon come from the ovens in the various shapes so well known to the consumers, has been sifted in the storehouse overhead. Following this it passes through the several netting machines and is sent below, through several great chutes, which lead to various sections of the bakeshop floor in the basement. Here it is again put in barrels, where it is left to settle and cool until it reaches the proper condition to be run through the mixing machines.

The sponge, which has been set during the day, is distributed in long, deep wooden troughs, situated in localities convenient to the work benches. Its transfer to and from the mixers is one of the most interesting details of the entire breadmaking process. Every thrifty housewife knows the consistency of bread sponge, but can, with difficulty, realize that it requires the services of several stalwart men and a large cart to carry the sponge of one baking from the trough to the machines. This cart contains possibly 500 pounds of solid, unyielding bread dough, which is dumped into a revolving cylinder, the interior of which has been treated previously as the housewife treats her shining pans when about to bake a batch of bread. When the sponge is once in the mixer, the various ingredients, including milk, water and salt, are exactly and carefully added, and the mass is allowed to stand for a few moments, when it is ready for the flour. Again would the average housewife be astonished at the manner in which the flour is added to the sponge.

No scoop, dipper, pan or pail would answer the requirements of this gigantic sponge. Strong men pick up an open barrel and toss the entire contents into the mixer. Barrel after barrel follows in quick succession until nearly 1,200 pounds have been thus distributed. The machine is started, and thus begins the first step in the kneading process. As the cylinder slowly revolves, the kneading being assisted by iron arms which revolve inside the chamber in opposite direction, so that the mixing may be more thoroughly and quickly done, the head baker stands by to stop the machine. As soon as the dough has reached a consistency in which it can be taken out in great masses of from 80 to 100 pounds it is again loaded into the cart and taken back to the troughs to raise.

A very interesting feature is the actual kneading of the various shaped loaves, their transfer to the ovens in a raw state and their exit therefrom, brown, plump and giving out a pungent and pleasant aroma.

When the dough has "raised" sufficiently, the busy time in bread making is at hand. At each work bench is stationed a man who weighs the dough which makes up each loaf. The scales are unerring, and the loaves consequently never vary in size. Each kind of bread has a separate scale and a separate crowd of bakers, who have become so proficient that where eight or ten are working at one bench it is impossible to distinguish one loaf from another, either before or after leaving the oven. The dough having reached oven proof, the hand kneading and rolling process begins. Practiced hands beat it and roll it, playing what may be likened unto a drum chorus as they rapidly prepare it for the oven. Every lover of Mother Goose will recall her admonition to the baker, "Patty cake! Patty cake! Baker's man. Roll it and bake it as fast as you can." Surely this old woman of blessed memory must have mastered the secret of breadmaking. Much of the bread is baked in pans, yet there are several of the popular shaped and higher priced varieties which are baked on the oven bottom. The work progresses from hour to hour and the same routine is repeated with never failing precision until the towering piles of bread admonish the foreman that enough has been baked to fill the orders in sight.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Indian Remedies.
The Indian pharmacopoeia comprised thoroughwort, spurge and Indian hemp, used as emetics; the bark of the henna chestnut and hatteroot, used as cathartics. They were also acquainted with many poisons, most of which were used on their weapons. For asthma, they employed tobacco and seaweed; for coughs, slippery elm; for dropsy, the wild gooseberry; for wounds, powdered puffball. They treated boils with onion poultices.

Chautauque lake is named from an Iroquois phrase, Chagaguch, "the foggy place."

LONDON'S PEOPLE.

Statistics as to the Population of the World's Greatest City.

The London county council has just issued a big volume full of interesting statistics. It appears that of the residence population only 65 per cent were born in London, and of born Londoners living in England 77 per cent still live in London and 23 per cent in the rest of the country. The southeastern counties, the south midland, the eastern and the southwestern are the only districts that contribute (severally) more than 2 per cent of the population. The total foreign percentage is no more than 2.98. It is noteworthy that, while the native population has decreased in the last 30 years from 84 to 77 per cent, the proportion of London Scottish has remained stationary, the Irish having decreased considerably, and the foreigners, chiefly Poles and Russians, have increased.

The actual total population of registration London at the last census was 4,311,748. This total falls short of the total as calculated on the basis of the known decennial increase, and it is estimated that 228,364 persons have gone to live elsewhere, the large majority no doubt finding their homes in outer London. The registrar general's returns for 1892 show the total number of births as 123,329; rate of illegitimacy, 3.75 per cent; total number of deaths, 86,833, of which 40 per cent represent infant mortality under 5 years of age; total number of persons married, 74,823.

The age tables show that more than 44 per cent of the population are either under 30 years of age or over 70, and may be presumed not to be mainly supported by their personal labor; the remainder, mostly between the ages of 30 and 50, may be reckoned as workers of one sort or another, without taking account of the unemployed. Of these workers of both sexes, in round numbers, 100,000 are described as professional, 391,000 as domestic, 340,000 as commercial and 1,000,000 as industrial, the total occupied class numbering nearly 2,000,000. Of the "industrial" million, builders and carpenters account for 115,000, mechanics and laborers for 116,000, and "dress" for more than 200,000, about 70 per cent of whom are women. The rest of this particular million are distributed among minor trades and industries.

ESOP UP TO DATE.

The Tale of the Master and the Ass Who Thought Himself a Horse.

There was once an Ass, who, seeing that the Horse was greatly valued by his Master, became dissatisfied with his natural lot. "Why," exclaimed he, "should I be set to carrying these ugly Sacks of Husks? The Horse is put into Harness and draws our Master's most valuable belongings. Surely I am of as much Value and have as much Strength and Endurance as he!"

Thinking in this wise and intent upon attracting the Attention of his Master, the silly Ass began to gallop frolicsomely about in a very extravagant manner, kicking up his Heels, as it to say, "My Father was a high mettled Racer, and you may see that I am his own Child in Speed and Spirit."

Perceiving the Antics of the Ass, and deceived for the moment into thinking that he was Capable, the Master put upon him a heavy Burden and started to drive him a six mile journey.

After being driven a very little Space, however, the Ass felt the Load grievously, went unsteadily, spilled a Portion of the Panniers, so as to call upon him the Wrath and Excoriation of his disappointed Master, and finally stumbled and fell helplessly in the Road.

"Alas!" he exclaimed, "I must have made a Mistake! My Father, after all, could have been only an Ass!"—New York Press.

A Bad Stroke.
At a very small luncheon the other day, whereas one of the guests was a divorcee who had married again, the conversation of course immediately turned on divorce, and a strait laced matron delivered quite a homily on this very serious evil of the present time before she realized on what very thin ice she was treading. To break the awkwardness of the situation, the hostess plunged into that most absorbing of topics, the fashions, by asking if any one had seen the Marie Antoinette hats of Roboux. This brought up the question of coiffure, and then, with fatal persistency, the evil of dyed hair was discussed, with its attendant dangers of skin troubles, while Mrs. X., fresh from Paris with a Titian head instead of her dark locks, listened in silence. Mrs. A., who had given the luncheon, was in despair.

"Things really seem bewitched!" she said to herself. "Is there no subject that is safer? And turning to her immediate neighbor, she began eagerly and volubly to talk of the latter's son, who was in college. "How pleased you will be to hear him home again!" she exclaimed sympathetically. "He is so attractive. I have always thought a grown son would be such a comfort."

"Well, Milly, you did put your foot into it with Mrs. B. at luncheon!" cried one of her intimates after the latter had gone. "Didn't you know her boy had been expelled from college and the family are at their wits' end to know what to do with him?"—New York Tribune.

Ornaments Made From Cows' Horns.

It is often the case that amateurs would like to make some use of handsome horns, but from the rigid and obstinate nature of the material are unable to do so. A simple process, carefully followed out, would enable any one to make beautiful and useful articles. The inner part of the horn is scraped out, then it is thrown into water and boiled for an hour or so, when it becomes soft. It is then held in the flame of a wood or coal fire, being constantly turned. It should be kept in the fire for some time, care being taken that it does not burn, and is frequently moistened by being dipped in boiling water. The heat and steam will soften it to about the condition of molten lead. It is therefore very soft, and can be split lengthwise by a strong knife and pinners. It can then be cut into thin layers by separating the sheets of which it is composed. By being taken between dies it can be made to take almost any form. When the article is complete, it can be scraped smooth, then given a high polish.—New York Ledger.

Deepest Mining Shaft in America.

The deepest mining shaft in America is not on the west coast among the celebrated gold and silver lodes, as one might expect, nor in the coal regions of Pennsylvania, nor among the "mines of the Montezumas" in Mexico. It is a common, everyday copper mine at Opouchee, Mich., which, at last accounts, was far beyond three-quarters of a mile in depth. The mine in question is called the Tamarack and is reputed by experts to tap the richest copper lode in the world.—St. Louis Republic.

Additional Locals.

—Wausau has a population of 11,001, an increase of 1,748 since 1890. The showing is a good one.

—Mrs. G. K. Mansur has been at Marshfield for several days, visiting with her daughter, Mrs. V. M. Peck. —Upholstering, curtain hanging, carpet laying, etc., at Paul Roettger's, Strongs ave. Good work, low prices. —W. W. Spraggon, wife and daughter are spending a few weeks with relatives at Millsville, Grant county.

—Handsome and stylish new spring suits are being made by Teofil Krutza, the tailor, at from $15.00 upwards. You are invited to call.

—People who desire to put in service water pipes, or fit up bath rooms, toilet rooms, etc., should get an estimate of A. V. Fetter. tf

—Buyers of flour can save 75 cents per barrel by purchasing the celebrated Rosebud, manufactured by the Jackson Milling Co., instead of buying flour made elsewhere. tf

—When in want of pine, cedar or hemlock shingles, call on the South Side Lumber Co., who have the most complete stock in Stevens Point, all of their own manufacture. tf

—Gentlemen, before ordering your new spring suit, remember that Teofil Krutza has just received his new spring stock, and that he is prepared to fill your orders on the shortest notice.

—Fifty cents saved on every barrel of Gold Crown flour bought. Manufactured by the Jackson Milling Co. Patronize home industry, instead of purchasing flour made at Minneapolis or other points. Warranted to be equal in all respects. tf —Jas. McCommond, who has been in the employ of the R. Connor Lumber Co. for several months, having charge of their saw mill near Stratford, left for that place, the first of the week, after spending a couple of weeks at his home here, being quite ill for a time.

Artificial Stone Pavement.

John Jones, the artificial stone builder, is prepared to do all work in his line, and guarantees to give satisfaction. Particular attention given to the laying of sidewalks, floors for carriage houses, stables, factories, etc. None but the best of material used, and work done in an artistic, lasting and pleasing manner. Patronage solicited. Call at or address, John Jones, 315 N. Second street, city. apr24tf

JOSEPH COOK, the Boston slanging orator, created a commotion in Honolulu July 4, which is also the anniversary of the Hawaiian republic. He was one of the speakers at a celebration of the event, and was making an annexation harangue with incidental abuse of President Cleveland, when he was interrupted, called to order and reprimanded by United States Minister Willis, who was president of the day. Orator Cook closed his speech in short order and left the stand amidst the silence of the crowd, which shows that they approved the rebuke which he had received. Mr. Cook is one of the men who have no respect for the divine gift of speech with which they are endowed.

To the Farmers.

When in want of anything in the line of lumber, lath, shingles, sash, doors, blinds and mouldings, call on the South Side Lumber Co. and look over their stock, get their figures, and be convinced it is to your interest to deal with them. Our stock is all dry, and we will not be undersold on any item, no matter how small the amount. Call and look over our large stock of cedar and pine shingles.

Yours truly,
SOUTH SIDE LUMBER CO.

Dr. A. P. Sawyer:—Dear Sir: I have been suffering with sick headache for a long time. I used your Family Care and now am entirely relieved. I would not do without your medicine. Mrs. G. A. Miller, Mt. Morris, Ill. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Dr. A. P. Sawyer:—I have had Rheumatism since I was 20 years old, but since using your Family Care have been free from it. It also cured my husband of the same disease. Mrs. Robt. Connell, Brooklyn, Iowa. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

Children Cry for
Pitcher's Castoria.

GUARANTEE

THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELTS AND APPLIANCES INSURE TO THE SICK THESE GREAT POINTS OF ADVANTAGE OVER ALL IMITATORS

The Electric Current can be immediately felt, although so sensitive to the most sensitive. The strength of the current is under the complete control of the wearer, so much so that a child may be treated and cured under the same power of Bolt necessary for the strongest man.

NO MEDICINES ARE NECESSARY. Avoid all cheap (so-called) Electric Belts and Appliances, as these are all imitations of our Electric Belts and Appliances. THE OWEN ELECTRIC TRUNK is the most retentive and curative Trunk made for the radical cure of Rupture.

Includes all cents and send for our Large Illustrated Catalogue in English, German, Swedish and Norwegian languages; containing medical facts, sworn statements of cures made and descriptions of Belts and Appliances. Address

THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT AND APPLIANCE CO.,
206 to 211 State Street, Chicago.

Try a bottle of Dr. Sawyer's Family Care and you will be convinced that it will cure all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bowel difficulties. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co. Dr. Sawyer's Family Care cures Stomach trouble. Dr. Sawyer's Family Care cures Liver complaints, cures Kidney difficulty. Sold by R. H. Mieding & Co.

A Good Pasture.
For horses and cattle, on west side of river. Plenty of grass and water, and care taken of stock. Terms reasonable. Enquire of Fred. Hodsdon, the milkman, 627 Elk street. tf

DR. L. DERDIGER, Oculist Optician

Will be in Stevens Point at the established office at JACOBS HOUSE.

Every Six Weeks—Watch for Date.

Dr. Derdiger, the Eye Specialist and President of the Wisconsin Optical and Ophthalmic Institute, treats diseases of the eye by the best method known to modern science. Straightens cross-eyes in children without an operation, inserts artificial glass eyes without pain, fits spectacles and has glasses ground for all defects of vision. Can refer you to many prominent people in this city and vicinity whom he has treated with great success. Consultation in English, German and Polish, FREE.

Permanent Office, 157 and 159 Main St.

Banks.

The First National Bank,

Stevens Point, Wis.
Capital $50,000. Surplus, $25,000.
A. R. WERNER, President.
J. S. REILLY, Vice Pres.
W. B. BUCKINGHAM, Cashier.
J. W. DUKKCAN, Assistant Cashier.
Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to our care. Collections made on all accessible points.

CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

Of Stevens Point, Wisconsin.
Capital, $100,000.
State Depository. County Depository. City Depository.
G. E. McDILL, Cashier. R. C. RUSSELL, Pres. R. B. JOHNSON, Asst. " LOUIS BRILL, V. P.

Accounts of Firms and Individuals received on the most favorable terms consistent with sound and conservative banking. Interest paid on time deposits. Drafts, money orders and letters of credit sold on all countries in the world.

J. Iverson's

is headquarters for everything in the line of WATCHES, CLOCKS.
Jewelry, Silver and Plated Ware, Optical Goods, Organs, Pianos, Sewing Machines. Give us a call and get prices, which you will find lower than the lowest. New goods arriving daily.

Real Estate.

REAL ESTATE AGENCY

For Lots, Houses, Wild and Improved Lands, Etc.
ENQUIRE OF
R. H. BUTTERFIELD & CO.

Drink

the Celebrated

Phoenix

Clubs

Rye.

Martin Moylan,

Sole Agent,

Stevens Point, Wis.

PATENTS

Obtained, and all PATENT BUSINESS attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain patent in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. Send MODEL DRAWING or PHOTO of invention. We advise as to patentability free of charge and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS PATENT IS SECURED. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State, County, City or Town, write to
C. A. NEW & CO.
Patent Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

GUARANTEE

THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELTS AND APPLIANCES INSURE TO THE SICK THESE GREAT POINTS OF ADVANTAGE OVER ALL IMITATORS

The Electric Current can be immediately felt, although so sensitive to the most sensitive. The strength of the current is under the complete control of the wearer, so much so that a child may be treated and cured under the same power of Bolt necessary for the strongest man.

NO MEDICINES ARE NECESSARY. Avoid all cheap (so-called) Electric Belts and Appliances, as these are all imitations of our Electric Belts and Appliances. THE OWEN ELECTRIC TRUNK is the most retentive and curative Trunk made for the radical cure of Rupture.

Includes all cents and send for our Large Illustrated Catalogue in English, German, Swedish and Norwegian languages; containing medical facts, sworn statements of cures made and descriptions of Belts and Appliances. Address

THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT AND APPLIANCE CO.,
206 to 211 State Street, Chicago.

The United States Official Investigation of Baking Powders,

Made under authority of Congress by the Chief Chemist of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., shows the

ROYAL Baking Powder

to be a cream of tartar baking powder of the highest quality, superior to all others in strength, leavening power, and general usefulness.

The Royal Baking Powder is thus distinguished by the highest expert official authority the leading Baking Powder of the world.

Royal Baking Powder makes the finest, sweetest, lightest and most wholesome food. It goes further in use, and is more economical than any other.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 WALL ST., NEW-YORK.

The Gazette.

By ED. D. GLENNON.

Entered at the Stevens Point Postoffice as second class mail matter. Published every Wednesday at 318 Main street.

Terms. - $2.00 per Annum

Extra copies of the Gazette may be secured at this office.

More Locals.

—Mrs. Mary Gee and Mrs. S. C. Wakley are spending a few weeks with relatives at Waupun.

—Ed. Murdoch has returned to Emmetsburg, Iowa, after spending a few weeks in our city.

—Grand special inducements at Ennor's studio, for his best work during the next few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson, after a pleasant visit at Rhinelander, returned to this city on Monday evening.

—Will. A. Gething, of Minneapolis, spent several days very pleasantly in the city, previous to the first of this week.

—Miss Emma Hendren returned to her home at Greenwood, Friday morning, after visiting with Miss Lou. Mansur.

—Misses Iona and Leola Tibbitts, of Hingham, Sheboygan county, are in the city, guests of their cousin, Mrs. Dr. Alcorn.

—Frank May, of the Fourth ward, is serving a 30 days' sentence in the county jail on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife.

—Jas. Welch, who has been at Rhinelander since early spring, employed on the log divide, returned to the city last Monday evening.

—Miss Hattie Chapman, of this city, now holds the position of stenographer for the Henney Carriage Co., in Chicago, where she commands a good salary.

—The Advancement Association meeting has been adjourned to next Saturday evening, at the council chamber, when it will be of the interest of all stockholders to be present.

—Annie Carr, 24 years of age, was taken to the asylum at Oshkosh, yesterday noon, having been pronounced insane by Drs. Gregory and M. G. Rood. She had made her home at the residence of John Roy, 402 Sixth avenue, North Side, for many years. Sheriff Leahy was accompanied to the asylum by his daughter, Miss Addie.

—John and Joseph Trader, sons of Anton Trader, of Hull, paid fine and costs amounting to $8.00, before Justice Carpenter, last Monday, having been arrested on the charge of cutting a neighbor named Mazurkavitz. The boys got into a fight, with the result that Mazurkavitz was quite badly slashed with a pen knife across the head and face.

—One of the most attractive outfits seen on our streets is the team and cart driven by Geo. and Ensign Atwell, sons of V. P. Atwell. The boys have thoroughly broken two yearling colts, have rigged up a well-fitting double harness, and to "cap the climax" built a two-wheeled cart, which seems to be as well and neatly built as many turned out of the big factories.

—L. L. Cramer, a former well known farmer near Stockton station, died very suddenly at Colby, Tuesday of last week. He hadn't been feeling well for some time, but was able to be up and around, and just as he was getting from his bed Tuesday morning, he dropped dead. Mr. Cramer was nearly 60 years of age, and was a brother-in-law of J. P. Chesley, the Strong's avenue grocer.

—W. B. Buckingham and family are camping at Lake Emily, to be gone for some time.

—Mrs. Lucy Weston has been at Amherst for a few days, visiting among relatives and friends.

—Mrs. M. Wadleigh and Miss Ethel Kirwan left for the Waupaca lakes, this noon, to enjoy an outing.

—Pianos, organs and sewing machines for sale or rent, and on reasonable terms. Call upon J. Iverson.

—Mrs. Will. Griffith, of Milwaukee, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clifford.

—C. H. Grant, Will. Albau, Walter Thoms and Leroy Williams were among the Stevens Pointers who spent Monday watching the Marshfield bicycle races.

—Frank Glennon and Frank Clifford will leave for Rhinelander, next Monday morning, making the tour on bicycles, and expect to be absent a week or ten days.

—Mart. Griffin will be ready for business at his new butcher shop on Strong's avenue, next Monday. He will also put in a stock of groceries within a few weeks. Mr. Griffin has a neat market, a new ice box made by Mal. Collins being one of the finest things of the kind we have seen in many a day.

—J. Iverson disposed of a new two story residence on Brown street, between George and Division streets, this morning, to Mrs. Annie Anderson. The residence, containing 11 rooms, has just been completed, and is located on lot 12, block 12. The consideration was $1,200. Mrs. Anderson is a widow lady, a sister-in-law of Louis R. Anderson.

Rivals Keep on Winning.

The Stevens Point Rivals went to Milladore, Sunday, and defeated the home team by a score of 30 to 2. The features of the game were the terrific batting and the pitching, Seibert striking out 16 of the Milladore nine. Following is the score:

RIVALS	R. MILLADORE	R.
Norton, 2b.....	Hazleton, 3b.....	0
Ward, c.....	Lero, 2b.....	0
Seibert, p.....	Kupch, 1b.....	0
Hoffman, 1b.....	Thorpe, 1b.....	0
B. Strong, 1b.....	Emmerman, 8s.....	0
Nelson, 3b.....	Everts, p.....	0
H. Strong, 2b.....	J. Leron, c.....	0
McCar, c.....	Curpenter, c.....	0
Means, r.....	Hausl, r.....	0

Building a Tannery.

F. A. Lukaszewicz and Frank Mioskowski, of Berlin, have purchased a site just north of the Wisconsin Central track, where it crosses the river, on the east side, and are now engaged in the construction of a tannery. The site was purchased from Owen Clark, and consists of eleven lots. The main building will be 32x20 feet in size, 16 feet high, with an addition of about the same size.

Mr. Mioskowski is a thorough tanner, having been with H. D. Sears, at Berlin, for a number of years. They will be prepared to do all kinds of tanning, but will make a specialty of the finer grades of leather, and expect to invest several thousand dollars in the business.

Ride Less Rapid.

Several accidents have been reported this season, caused by bicycle riders who occupy the sidewalks. None of these accidents have proven fatal or very serious, but a number of children have been considerably bruised. These accidents are said to be due mainly to rapid riding, and repetitions may be avoided by a little more care and less speed. In some parts of the city it is almost impossible for bicycle riders to travel unless they use the walks, and this privilege will probably not be interfered with as long as cause is not given for complaints. Cyclers will protect their own interests by being watchful of the welfare of others.

Married This Morning.

Michael J. Cauley, of Linwood, and Miss Mamie McGinley, of Almond, were married at the Catholic church in the latter town at 9 o'clock this morning, Rev. E. P. Lorigan officiating. David Padden, a cousin of the groom, assisted as best man, while Miss Nellie McGinley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. After the ceremony, the young couple, their relatives and most intimate friends repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ann McGinley, where a bountiful breakfast was served. They will take this evening's Central train for St. Paul and other points in the west, where they expect to enjoy a brief wedding tour. They will then return to make their home in Linwood, three miles south of Stevens Point.

The bride is one of the most lovely little ladies in the land, and as bright as she is good. She has taught school in this county and in the northern part of the state for several terms, and since last fall had presided over the district school near the home of the groom. The groom is one of the Portage county's best known young men, and like his bride, was born and raised here. He is the youngest son of Mrs. M. Cauley, a straight-forward, genial citizen. The many friends of both join with THE GAZETTE in wishing them a long, happy and contented life.

To the Public.

Simply because we had the misfortune in keeping abreast of the times, to buy from the manufacturer, some time ago, an inferior class of goods, which have since turned yellow or faded, is no reason why there should still be a class of short sighted people to believe that we are still turning out a class of work that will fade. It has always been our aim to give our patrons the very latest possible productions in our line. In fact, I can say with pride, that we have produced during the past twelve months, more new ideas than any other photographer in the state. It has been our aim and always will be as long as we continue in the photograph business, to keep our face to the front, and should we have the misfortune to buy from the factory raw material and place the same on the market before the stock dealers do so, don't blame us for trying to be progressive, for fancy posing, bright chemical effects, and all that goes to make up a finished production in the art photographic line, we challenge the state. All we ask is comparison. Compare our work, if you will, with any other you may find in the house, from an artistic point of view, and if there is any fading qualities in it, that belongs to the manufacturer, not to the photographer. We simply use the chemicals that are placed on the market. Steal my street show case display, if you will, take it along with you on an inspection tour of the state, compare our work and see how easily you will be convinced that we are and will continue to be "Always to the front" in the progressive picture line.

Very truly yours,
J. A. ENNOR.

A Card.

The time of my departure from Portage county, the happy home of my child, boy and early manhood days, having arrived, I take this method of expressing much gratification at meeting with many of my old associates, and not a few who were in years past my pupils. I offer my sincere thanks to many for kind invitations extended and accepted, also to those whose appreciated invitations were received but for want of time found it impossible to accept. To all I extend an affectionate farewell and from the depth of my heart wish for the good people of Stevens Point, as well as throughout Portage county, a life of health and prosperity.

Very respectfully,
J. E. CORRIGAN.

THE SOUTH SIDE.

Personal and News Items of More or Less Importance.

—Mrs. Gus. Manthey is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Burbach, of Portage.

—Mrs. John Livermore and little daughter, of Wausau, have been visiting with Mrs. J. P. Chesley, in this city, for several days past.

—Mrs. John Dumas and two children, Mrs. John Young and Miss Laura Young, all of Ashland, are guests of Mrs. Jessie Hanstein, of this city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sargent, of Argile, Wis., are in the city, visiting at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. J. H. Redfield, on Church street.

—H. H. Chapman left for Green Bay, last Saturday, to spend a short vacation. In the meantime Gavin Campbell is filling the position of time-keeper at the Central offices.

—The Central company contemplate giving an excursion to "the Dells," during the early part of August. The date has not yet been determined, but fare for the round trip will be $2.00, including an excursion from Portage on the steamer.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Lamp are enjoying a visit from the latter's father and sisters, John Deegan and Miss Winifred Deegan, of Detroit, and Mrs. Arthur Willet, of Waukesha. Mrs. Fournier, of Detroit, is also a guest at Mr. Lamp's home.

—Mrs. Helen Judd, of Tullahoma, Tenn., Mrs. Anna Kettenbach, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Chas. Crane, of Ft. Madison, Ia., are visiting at the home of their brother, Fred. Crane, 1204 Michigan avenue. Charles is an engineer on the Santa Fe railroad.

—Supt. A. R. Horn and family and N. F. Phillips and family returned from Liberty Bluff, down on the Portage line, last Monday noon, where they spent the previous three days trout fishing, going down in Mr. Horn's private car. About two hundred trout were caught, and N. F. says that 40 were consumed in one meal and 46 in another. On Sunday they were joined by Wm. Cormack, wife and daughter, Miss Helen, and Will. Olin.

Only $500.

Five hundred dollars will buy a new house and three lots, located near the Normal School, at 1004 Phillips street. A sure bargain. Come and investigate or address Geo. H. Corrigan, city.

Do You Burn Coal?

Order your season's supply of the John Rice & Bro. Co. and get good coal. It doesn't cost any more than poor coal costs you. Ask any of our last year's customers how the quality of our coal compared with that bought of other dealers.

Nearly Four Score and Ten.

Benj. Ellis, the venerable father of Mrs. W. H. Gilchrist, reached the 89th milestone in his career, last Monday, and with some twenty-five of his friends spent a part of the day at Sweet Willow Point, better known as Council Bluffs, six miles north of the city, on the banks of the Wisconsin. The Shepard steamer was chartered to carry the party back and forth, and among Mr. Ellis' guests were S. A. Sherman, Aug. Goerke and J. A. Ennor, with their families, and Miss Emily Gilchrist. There has been quite a colony of Stevens Point campers at the above point for several days, and the excursionists were taken in and royally entertained, none being sorry for coming when the hour of departure arrived. Mr. Ellis is a well-preserved man, both physically and mentally, for one of his age.

Notice.

I, the undersigned, have sold my interest in the meat market business in Prentice block, Strong's avenue, this day to John Edward Ambrose, who continues the business with my former partner, William E. Davis. Dated at Stevens Point, July 18, 1895.

JOHN AMBROSE.

FINE FARM FOR SALE.

In Grayson county, northern Texas, three and one-half miles from Denison, a city of twenty thousand inhabitants, and four and one-half miles from city of Sherman, twelve thousand inhabitants, 76½ acres, never failing well of good water, and large spring in pasture. Call at 449 Strong's ave., city. w4

Farm Products.

Farm products grown in Portage county in 1894, as reported by assessors in 1895:

	Bushels
Wheat.....	12,467
Corn.....	231,151
Oats.....	320,799
Barley.....	2,054
Rye.....	123,243
Potatoes.....	829,158
Root crops.....	4,383
Hops, pounds.....	61,800
Cultivated grasses, tons.....	12,741
Butter, pounds.....	382,066
Cheese, pounds.....	9,650

Acres grown in 1895:
Wheat.....	661
Corn.....	14,297
Oats.....	23,183
Barley.....	96
Rye.....	16,419
Potatoes.....	22,777
Cows, number of.....	5,750
Value of cows.....	$75,412

CHAS. A. LANE, County Clerk.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

3001.

Report of the Condition

The First National Bank

At Stevens Point,

In the State of Wisconsin, at the close of business, July 11th, 1895.

RESOURCES.

Loans.....	$315,554.87
U. S. Bonds.....	14,000.00
Other bonds.....	86,174.47
Banking house.....	16,530.00
Other real estate.....	5,000.00
Cash on hand and in banks.....	56,539.26
Redemption fund.....	522.50
	$484,361.10

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock.....	$50,000.00
Surplus.....	25,000.00
Undivided profits.....	2,428.57
Circulating notes.....	11,250.00
Dividends unpaid.....	90.00
Deposits.....	405,592.25
	$494,361.10

State of Wisconsin, County of Portage, ss.
I, W. B. BUCKINGHAM, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

W. B. BUCKINGHAM, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23d day of July, 1895. A. J. KOTZ, Notary Public.

CORRECT—Attest:
A. R. WELCH,
W. J. GILCHRIST,
F. E. BOSWORTH, } Directors.

10th Report of the Condition

—OF—

The Citizen's National Bank,

At Stevens Point,

In the State of Wisconsin, at the close of business, July 11th, 1895.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts.....	$176,847.12
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....	33.49
U. S. bonds to secure circulation.....	25,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds.....	3,000.00
Stocks, securities, etc.....	7,500.00
Banking house, furniture and fixtures.....	28,148.31
Due from national banks (not reserve agents).....	3,593.82
Due from approved reserve agents.....	17,971.21
Checks and other cash items.....	701.31
Notes of other national banks.....	110,561.92
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents.....	1,125.00
Legal money reserve in bank, viz: Specie.....	$10,201.85
Legal-tender notes.....	6,500.00
Redemption fund with U. S. treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation).....	1,125.00
Total.....	$383,152.19

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in.....	$100,000.00
Surplus fund.....	1,500.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid.....	1,869.57
National Bank notes outstanding.....	22,500.00
Individual deposits subject to check.....	110,561.92
Demand certificates of deposit.....	1,548.50
Time certificates of deposit.....	45,172.20
Total.....	$383,152.19

State of Wisconsin, County of Portage, ss.
I, G. E. McDILL, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

G. E. McDILL, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of July, 1895. R. B. JOHNSON, Notary Public.

CORRECT—Attest:
LOUIS BRILL,
J. P. ROTHMAN,
E. J. FRIEDMAN, } Directors.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

CLEARING - SALE!

MUST MAKE ROOM

FOR # FALL GOODS.

THE

C. O. D. STORE

WILL SELL AT A

BIG SACRIFICE!

Note prices on a few articles:

Real KoKo Silks, 40c;	now	25 cents
Swivel " 40c;	"	25 "
Crinkles, 15c;	"	10 "
Dimities, 25c, 18c, 15c, 12½c;	now	all 10 cts.

A Pile of REMNANTS; don't miss 'em!

UMBRELLAS WILL BE CLOSED OUT
RUINOUS PRICES.

CLOTHING--Tailor Made.

Fit equal to any Suit made to order. About one-half the former prices.

Henrietta and Serges less price than ever.

J. P. ROTHMAN.

BEST 2-PLY CARPETS, 75c, NOW 55c

Ladies' Button Shoes, all solid, $2.00; now $1.50

Men's all solid, $2.00; now 1.50

Ladies' very fine, warranted, Kid Button Shoes, $5; now 3.50

Ladies' Black Seamless Hose, 10c

Celluloid Collars, Men & Boys, all sizes, 10c

YOU MUST CALL

It's impossible to mention all the Bargains.

Awarded
Highest Honors—World's Fair
—DR.—
PRICES
CREAM
BAKING
POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.
A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.
40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

The Gazette.
OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.
WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1895.

—Go to the Cheap Cash store.
—Go to the Cheap Cash Store for bargains.
—Dr. Bischoff's dental parlors for fine fillings.
—M. S. Rustadt, of New Hope, was a caller on Friday afternoon.
—Marshfield has a population of 4,579, a gain of 1,100 since 1890.
—Go and see "Living Checkers," at the M. E. church, tomorrow evening.
—A house in firstclass condition, and two lots, for sale. Call at 111 Jefferson street.
—Misses Mary and Hannah Molski are visiting among relatives and friends in Stockton.
—Sewer pipe and drain tile, of all sizes, sold in carload or smaller lots by Albert V. Petter.
—The South Side Lumber Co. sell the celebrated Oshkosh sash, doors, blinds and mouldings.
—Robt. J. Taylor, of Sparta, has been visiting with his brothers, Will and David, since Thursday last.
—Louis Brill is attending the races at Detroit. Both of his horses, Maggie Sherman and B. B. P., take part.
—Great reduction in cabinet photographs at H. N. Richardson's, corner of Clark and Third streets. Now only $2.50 per dozen.
—Thos. Clark is down from Glidden for a few days, visiting at the home of his parents, Frank Clark and wife, on Main street.
—Mrs. P. C. Kelly and children boarded yesterday's Green Bay train for Arnott, to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. John Dineen.
—Mayor Barker has been enjoying a visit from his son, Clyde C. Barker, of Chicago, for the past few days. They spent Friday at points along the Portage branch.
—A full line of lumber of all kinds, as well as timber, lath, shingles, etc., can be found at the North Side Lumber Co. yard. They are making a specialty of the retail trade.
—Mrs. E. B. Armstrong, of Union Center, Mich., is visiting at the home of her brother, J. O. Raymond. Mrs. Armstrong's husband is pastor of the Methodist church at Union Center.
—When in the market for hardwood flooring, go to the South Side Lumber Co., who are agents for the celebrated C. J. L. Meyers' L. X. L. maple flooring; also all other kinds of hardwood flooring in stock.
—Lawrence Bischoff, little son of Mr. and Mrs. August Bischoff, fell from a distance of about 15 feet, striking the sidewalk, but other than losing consciousness and bruising his body somewhat, he escaped injury.
—Geo. Huth, one of the Stevens Point bootblacks, has become imbued with the fever of enterprise, and in a few days will have a chair for his customers to sit down in. It will be located in the Oster yard, between the two national banks.
—Ray Sherwood is now working in the Enterprise office, at Centralia, and last Thursday came near blowing up the entire outfit—or rather a gasoline tank, which fed the engine, took fire, and serious consequences were narrowly averted.
—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. O. Raymond are enjoying a visit from their grandchildren, Jessie and Jas. Hanchett and Webster Brown, of Rhinelander. They accompanied home Mrs. Raymond, who spent several days at Rhinelander last week.

Umbrella
Sale,
Thursday
and Friday
of this week.

IT'S one of those timely, seasonable offerings. August is usually a showery month. This sale should be interesting to you.

Think of such prices!

26 inch	UMBRELLA	for	35c
75 cent	UMBRELLA	for	58c
85 cent	UMBRELLA	for	63c
$1 and $1.25	UMBRELLA	for	82c
$1.50	UMBRELLA	for	$1.18
$1.75	UMBRELLA	for	$1.37
$2.50	UMBRELLA	for	$1.98
$3.00	UMBRELLA	for	$2.48
$3.50	UMBRELLA	for	$2.98
$4.00	UMBRELLA	for	$3.48
$5.00	UMBRELLA	for	$4.39

Straw Hats and Ladies' Capes at 1/2 price and less.

ANDRAE & SHAFFER CO.

—Go to the Cheap Cash store.
—Chas. E. Redfield is spending today in Chicago.
—Baled hay, both wild and timothy, at Geo. J. Leonard's, Clark street.
—A bounteous rain last night, and all nature presents a generous smile today.
—Rev. W. J. Rice is attending the Catholic summer school, at Madison, this week.
—The Misses Julia and Ella Wick spent last week at Iola, visiting relatives and friends.
—Patrick Meehan, of Milwaukee, spent Monday in the city, coming up on business and pleasure.
—Comfortable residence, on Strong's avenue, for rent. Enquire of W. J. Clifford, or John Shannon.
—White kid slippers, the finest made, can be found at the Merriam Shoe store, on Strong's avenue.
—John Frederick has been appointed postmaster at Almond, in place of Sam. Feldman, removed.
—My residence property on Clark street is offered for sale. For further particulars enquire of N. F. Phillips.
—Mrs. F. B. Buell and three children, of Eau Claire, are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. King, on Brown street.
—Go to the new shoe store, on Strong's avenue, for fine and medium grade shoes, for both ladies and gents, boys and girls.
—Miss Gertrude and Master Carl Stenger, of Green Bay, are spending a part of their vacation among relatives and friends in Stevens Point.
—Miss Dora Olin and sister, of Marshfield, have been in the city for a day or two, Miss Dora coming down to have her eyes treated by Dr. Alcorn.
—A. J. Kujawa is again on duty at the First National bank, after rusticiating a week in the country. Arthur Week assisted at the bank during his absence.
—A large and complete line of white canvas Oxford shoes, all sizes and shapes, may be found at the Merriam shoe store, F. B. Merriam proprietor, on Strong's avenue.
—For rent, a new 11 room house, just finished, well located. Reasonable rent. Also the rooms over Gerdes & Breitenstein's store. Enquire of J. Iverson.
—Jas. Quinn, Jr., who has been keeping the accounts at the Stevens Point boom this season, will leave for Chicago, this week, where he expects to secure a position.
—Mrs. N. Boyington is one of the latest to have a new cement sidewalk laid in front of her home on Main street. J. M. Roy has charge of the work and has done a good job.
—Miss Bertha Linneman, sister of Mrs. H. N. Richardson, of this city, recently graduated from St. Benedict's Academy, St. Joseph, Minn. She stood very high in her studies, and was presented with a gold medal of honor.
—The Methodists of the La Crosse district will hold their annual camp meeting at Viroqua, from the 23d of August to the 1st of September. A very extensive gathering is promised, and accommodations will be provided for all.
—Mrs. Maria Duncan, mother of Ed. and Eugene Duncan, of Buena Vista, died at her home in that town, on Thursday last, aged 58 years, after an illness of only three days with peritonitis. The funeral took place on Saturday last.
—Prof. O. L. Ellis, the optician, will be in the city, at Schenk & Arenberg's, all of next week, commencing Monday. Call and see him, if you wish a new pair of glasses or your eyes require the services of a competent person.
—Miss Pearl Start has been camping with the Bronson, Kelsey and Mrs. G. B. Clark families at Council Bluffs, up on the Wisconsin river, and her sister-in-law, Millie Start, has been on duty day and night at the telephone exchange.
—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar G. Loberg were presented with a little daughter, last Sunday morning, and all interested are happy, including the grandparents on both sides. The best cigars have been smoked to the future blessings of the new arrival.
—Mrs. D. E. Dawson and children, of Merrill, returned home yesterday morning, after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Jensen, in this city, and other relatives in Stockton. Mr. Dawson holds the responsible position of foreman for the Gilkey-Anson Lumber Co.

—Call at Richardson's for your photographs. Only $2.50 per dozen.
—Plate work a specialty at Bischoff's dental parlors, over Taylor Bros.' store.
—Miss Anna Kronenwetter, of Mosinee, is the guest of Miss Frank Conniff, Main street.
—Mrs. Hattie Owen, of Appleton, is visiting in the city, the guest of Mrs. E. A. Eldredge.
—Miss Stella Wilson has gone to Chicago to visit relatives, and will remain for a few weeks.
—J. J. Kennedy, the Rib Lake lumberman, transacted business in Stevens Point on Monday.
—The finest of shoes, for both ladies and misses, at the Merriam Shoe store, Strong's avenue.
—Mr. and Mrs. Allis Gross now reside at 525 Brown street, having removed from Strong's avenue.
—Sheriff Leahy has taken eleven insane people to the asylum at Oshkosh since the first of last January.
—Mrs. C. A. Schenk and children left for Watertown, on Monday, where they will spend some time visiting with her parents.
—Shoes for men and boys, including a complete line of tan shoes, latest makes, pointed toes, etc., at the Merriam Shoe Store.
—Wm. Herron, who has been with the Rogers & Emmons Lumber Co., at Glidden, for the past few months, is spending a few days with his family in the city.
—Richard O'Connor, the Standard Oil Co. representative, accompanied by his daughter, spent a couple of days in the city last week, coming up from Milwaukee.
—The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will present "Living Checkers," at the church parlors, tomorrow evening. Admission 10 cents. Ice cream and cake, extra.
—Prof. J. E. Corrigan departed for his home at Hico, Texas, last Monday evening, after spending a couple of weeks very pleasantly among familiar scenes in this city and country.
—Eye glasses properly fitted by Prof. O. L. Ellis, the optician, who will be at Schenk & Arenberg's jewelry store all of next week, commencing on Monday, Aug. 29th.
—G. A. Slender spent Saturday and Sunday in Oshkosh, where he went to meet his mother, who has been living at Princeton, and whom he expects to bring to Stevens Point shortly to make her future home.
—The ladies auxiliary to the Eintrachts Verein, and all other ladies who are interested, are requested to meet at the Verein Hall, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of reorganizing and electing officers.
—Rasmus Hanson, 110 Strong's avenue, is again ready for business after the damage to his stock by fire. He has purchased a fine new stock, the best goods in the market, and is prepared to fill all orders.
—Maria Sweeney, the window smasher, who is better known in Wisconsin than is Mrs. Cleveland at Washington, was committed to the Vernon county insane asylum, at Viroqua, last Saturday.
—Miss Agnes Quinn, of Chicago, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Leonard, to remain a couple of weeks. Her brother, George, who is well known to many of our citizens, was married last week to a worthy Chicago lady.
—Frank Billiter of Minneapolis, came down on Saturday evening to remain a couple of days at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Lauber, and to accompany home Mrs. Billiter and little son, who had been visiting here for a couple of weeks.
—It is expected that work on the new Wisconsin Central freight depot at the foot of Main street will be commenced next week. The Pabst buildings will be moved off the west end of Clark street immediately, when tracks will be laid onto the new depot grounds.
—Miss Genevieve Webster has been spending a couple of weeks among relatives and former neighbors in the town of Almond. She will return home this week, accompanied by Miss Grace Guernsey, of Clintonville, who has also been enjoying country life for a few days.
—Louis Zimmer purchased a valuable hunting dog from Phil. Ward, of Grand Rapids, and after remaining here a few days the dog returned to its original owner. The Enterprise arises to remark: "The supposition is that the dog did not like the place on account of the Sunday closing laws now in force there."
—Emil Voyer, Harry Miller and Fred. Campbell spent Sunday in Grand Rapids. The first named went to Junction City on the morning train, and then to the Rapids on his wheel, the others going around via Flover. This trip was a pleasant one, barring the fact that Emil's saddle gave out when passing over the corduroy roads south of the Junction.
—John C. Leary, one of the Central's most faithful employees, returned here last Saturday morning, after spending nearly six weeks in the east. His mother's older sister, Mrs. M. Dempsey, lives at Avoca, Penn., and at this place John enjoyed himself for three or four weeks. He also looked over the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Scranton, seeing much of interest in each of these places.

—F. B. Lamoreux was a Waupaca visitor, Monday.
—When wanting wall paper, paints, oils or brushes, call upon Ira L. Eldredge, 812 Ellis street. Telephone #3.
—F. B. Lamoreux's youngest child is down with scarlet fever and Mrs. Lamoreux also has symptoms of the disease.
—Geo. Scott has secured $200 bail and is again at liberty. Scott is the young man who knocked an eye out of John Lutz, of McMill.
—The North Side Lumber Co. is headquarters for all kinds of builders' material, and customers can be accommodated on short notice.
—A. L. Kreutzer, Wausau's able and courteous young attorney, spent last night and part of today in the city, while on his way to Waupaca on court business.
—Before ordering your spring suit, or even a single garment, call upon Rasmus Hanson, 110 Strong's avenue, up stairs. A complete new stock, with the lowest prices.
—We will sell you any amount of lumber, grades equal, cheaper than you can buy elsewhere in Stevens Point. Call and get our figures before buying, and we will convince you we mean just what we say.
SOUTH SIDE LUMBER CO.
—A. M. Nelson will move his family from Amherst to Stevens Point, next week, intending to occupy their new home on Clark street by Aug. 1st. In the meantime his residence is being supplied with hot and cold water throughout, including bathroom and closets, new floors are put in and the house is being painted in an attractive manner both inside and out.
—Emanuel Peickert, who has been running a locomotive engine in the Mesaba iron country for several months, with Virginia, Minn., as his headquarters, came down last week to spend a few days in the city, being on his way to Chicago. He says that things are very quiet along the range, owing to the sudden demand for Bessemer ore and the drop in soft ore.
—Ole Virum took part in the bicycle races at Marshfield, Monday afternoon, but he was in poor condition for racing, being sick all the forenoon. He took second place in the half mile open, and third place in the three mile lap race. The track was excellent, being one of the finest for bicycle racing to be found, but still no remarkable time was made, and if Ole had been feeling well he would have taken first place in more contests than one.
—Dr. von Neupert, Sr., spent last Wednesday at the home of Bert. Caves, nine miles south of Hancock, where he performed a delicate operation on Bert., who is a lad of nine years of age. Necrosis of the shin bone had troubled the young man for some time, and to stop the gradual decay, Dr. von Neupert cut out a piece of the bone five inches long. The operation was a decided success, a visit to his patient on Saturday finding the boy getting along remarkably well.
—Miss Elta Strobe, daughter of J. W. Strobe, left for Clifton, California, last Thursday morning. She goes from here to Portland, Oregon, thence to San Francisco, where she will be met by her future husband, Fred. Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Weston. On Friday next they will be married at the home of the groom's parents, and expect to make Clifton their permanent home. Miss Elta leaves many warm friends in Stevens Point, all of whom will join THE GAZETTE in wishing herself and husband long and contented lives.
—Fern, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sellers, died at their home in Mellen last Sunday morning, and the remains were brought here on Monday evening's Central train. Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. Sellers' parents, John Sellers and wife, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. Re Qua officiating, with interment in the Episcopal cemetery. The little girl's death was caused by cramps with which she had suffered at frequent intervals for several months. She was one year old last Saturday. To the afflicted parents the sympathy of many friends is extended.
—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Marshall, Mrs. Walter Halladay, and Mrs. E. S. Sales, of Merlin, Kent county, Ontario, are in the city visiting at the home of the former's brother, A. B. Marshall. Some thirty years ago, Mr. Marshall passed through Stevens Point on his way south, after being called to the northern part of the state on account of an accident that befell Andy. He owns an elevator and much farming land at Merlin. They will visit at Merrill, Marshall, Dane county, and Elgin, Ill., before taking their departure for the Queen's domain.
—E. H. Winchester, the auburn-locked cashier of the State Bank of Phillips, a gentleman who is as well and favorably known as anyone in this "neck of woods," spent a few pleasant hours in Stevens Point, last Monday. Ed. is a member of the committee on invitations and reception for the coming anniversary celebration, which occurs next Saturday, and he says there will be reserved seats for every person from this city who favors that place with their presence, the people of Phillips having a warm place in their hearts for Stevens Pointers, who remembered their northern neighbors most substantially in time of need.

Great Bargains

In Men's, Boys' and Children's

Clothing,

Ladies', Misses and Children's

Fine Shoes,

at Clifford's.

New Goods Arriving Daily.

Mid-Summer Sale.

I have moved a lot of Summer Goods, odds and ends and remnants to the store just east of Green's Meat Market, which will be sold at a very low price to close them out. Come and look them over and get prices. You will be satisfied they are bargains.

All other goods will be sold cheap to make room for goods in the fall. Come and get prices; we will save you money.

Respectfully,

E. L. ROSS.

BIG CUT

Jewelry,
Pianos,
Organs and Sewing Machines.

This is our ANNUAL CLEARING SALE, and everybody who calls within the next thirty days will get bargains. Note a few of them below:

Boss 14k Gold Filled Gents' Case, with 15 jewel Elgin or Waltham movement, $17.00, worth $24.50.
7 jewel Elgin or Waltham movement in silverine case, $5.
Silver and Silverine cases with movements from $2 up.
8-day Walnut Clocks with alarms, $2.10, worth $4.
Nickel Alarm Clocks, warranted best made, 65 cents.
Mantel Clocks, $3.25, worth $5.50.
Sterling Silver Table Ware at $1.00 per oz.
Sterling Silver Belt Buckles, 75c, worth $1.25.
Other Buckles, 15c a set, worth 35c.
Sterling Silver Belt Pins, 25c, worth 50c.
Sterling Silver Side Comb, 40c, worth 75c.
Other Side Combs, 10c a pair, worth 25c.
Silver plated Tea Sets, $3.50 to $10, worth double the money.
All Rogers Bros.' plated ware, $1.50 per set, worth $2.50.
Opera Chains, 50c to $2.50, just half their worth.

Other goods and all kinds of repairing at correspondingly low prices. Be sure to call and be convinced that our goods are the best and prices the lowest.

J. Iverson.

STEVENS POINT CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

Prof. Louis A. Schidlo,
DIRECTOR.

Graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Munich, Bavaria.

Lessons given single or in classes in Vocal Culture, Piano, Violin, Organ, Harmony and Composition.

Free use of Instruments.

For terms, call at the residence of Prof. Schidlo, 219 Strong's ave., or at Schenk & Arenberg's Jewelry Store, 457 Main St.

WEAKNESS QUICKLY, THOROUGHLY, FOREVER CURED BY WINCHESTERS ENGLISH RESTORINE.

MADE A WELL-MAN OF ME

30 DAYS

1000 days by a new perfect scientific method that cannot fail unless the cure is beyond human aid. You feel improved the first day, feel a benefit every day, soon know yourself a king among men in body, mind and heart; drains and insures and every obstacle to happy married life removed. Nerve force, will, energy, brainpower when falling are restored. In neglected, such troubles result fatally. Mailed anywhere, sealed, for $1.00, six boxes for $5.00. Winchester Chemical Co., Chicago, Ill., or our Agent.

For sale by JOHN CADMAN.

Drs. Brewer & Son

Will be at the JACOBS HOUSE, TUESDAY, AUG. 20th.

At Seville House, Waupaca, Aug. 19th.

Have made regular visits to the same offices in this section of the State for the past twenty-five years. This long experience in the treatment of chronic diseases and constant study of the best methods enables them to Cure Every Curable Case.

CONSULTATION FREE AND REASONABLE TERMS FOR TREATMENT.

We are prepared to show successful results in treating diseases of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach, Kidneys, Nerves, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Debility, Youthful Indiscretion, Cancer, Old Sores, Tumors, Piles, Diabetes, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhea, Eczema, Loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Catarrh, Consumption, Diseases of Women, Syphilis, Influenza, Admia, Tetter, Scrofula, Eruptions, Pimples, Humors, Blisters of long standing. Address with stamp.

DRS. BREWER & SON, Evanston, Ill.

C. C. BUCK ARCHITECT

Heating and Ventilating Engineer. Expert, Standard Mill Construction.

Citizens Nat. Bank Building, Green Bay, 430 Main St., Stevens Point, Wis.

CONOVER & PORTER, Architects.

Pioneer Bldg., Madison, Wis. First Nat. Bank Bldg., Ashland, Wis.

424 Address at Madison.

CITY LIVERY STABLE

R. B. FINCH, PROP.

This Stable is provided with the very best turnouts to be obtained in this section of the State and our rates will be found reasonable. When you want a first-class rig, either single or double, give him a call.

NEW LIVERY.

A. LUTZ, JR., PROP.

New rigs, good horses and reasonable charges. Give us a call and we will treat you well. Also first-class Hack and Baggage line. Telephone No. 10.

SHY'S INDIAN FIGHT.

HE STOOD OFF SEVENTEEN APACHES WITH HIS RIFLE.

A Single Handed Contest With One of Geronimo's Hands of Marauders—It Lasted All One Afternoon and Put to Flight Long Haired Fighters' Stories.

He was standing on the station platform at Las Vegas waiting to take the southward bound train—a quiet, businesslike man, evidently a ranchman or miner. A resident of the town called the attention of a tourist to him and said:

"That's John Shy. Never heard of him? John T. Shy of Deming, manager of the Missouri-Florida Cattle company? Talk about your long haired Indian fighters! They ain't in it with him. That man single handed fought and stood off 17 Apaches all one afternoon. It was ten years ago when Chief Geronimo was on the warpath and was making things warm for ranchmen and prospectors in southern New Mexico and Arizona. John Shy at that time, the same as now, was the manager of the cattle company, whose range lies about the Florida mountains, 20 miles south of Deming. With his wife and little son he resided upon the ranch in a neat frame house. In a cottage close by lived Mr. and Mrs. Yeager from Missouri. Mr. Yeager was one of the owners of the cattle outfit.

"On a bright autumn morning in 1885 Mr. and Mrs. Yeager drove to Deming in their carriage. There they made some purchases, called on friends in town, and in the afternoon started for home. It was the last time they were seen alive by their friends. Meantime at the ranch John Shy, who had been hunting strayed stock out on the range, came back to his house at noon, played with his boy while dinner was preparing, and then the family sat down at the table.

"Something darkened the window, and Mrs. Shy screamed. An Apache stood just outside in the act of aiming a gun at her husband. As John Shy sprang for his rifle the Indian fired, missing him. The yell of a band of Indians and the tramping of hoofs outside came simultaneously with the bursting upward of flames and smoke, showing that the house had been fired. Back of the house was a hillside thickly wooded with a low growth of pinon and scrub oak. Out through the back door the inmates broke for the hillside, the husband covering their retreat with his rifle. Before they could gain a place of shelter an Apache bullet wounded the boy. Dropping behind a boulder, John Shy told his wife and boy to separate themselves in the thicket in the rear and then gave battle to the Indians.

"It was a mounted band of 17 Apaches that he had to deal with. While some of them fired upon him from a distance, others dismounted and crept as near him as they dared, taking advantage of every object and inequality of ground to shelter their approach. They were well armed and every time he showed his hand it brought a rain of bullets about him. While the Indians nearest him kept up their firing to compel him to remain closely under cover, the mounted ones suddenly charged upon him. Peering from behind his sheltering rock, John Shy saw ten Apaches riding at top speed toward him, not 100 yards away. Without heeding the bullets from the oncoming in concealment about him, he rose on one knee, and, standing his elbow upon the boulder, worked his repeating rifle with the skill that comes from coolness and a lifetime practice. His first shot dropped one of the ponies flat, at his second a warrior rolled to the ground under his horse's belly, and at his fourth or fifth shot another warrior dropped his gun and clutched at his elbow. That was enough for the red riders, who came no further, but picking up the fallen Indian from the ground circled back and got away out of range as fast as they could.

"Presently the Indians charged again, but this time they had learned to respect John Shy's rifle and did not venture so near as before. They circled back, and, after that, a few of them remained with the ponies while the others dismounted and joined those who were attacking him from concealment. All the characteristic skulking and stratagems of the Apaches were employed in the attempt to kill this lone white man. Some of the warriors crept round to the hillside so as to attack him on the flank and rear, which compelled him to leave the boulder and crawl back into the thicket behind him. Here the Indians were loath to follow him, not liking the notion of coming to close quarters with a man who had shown such nerve and readiness in the use of his rifle. Some-where among the scrub oak and pinon he knew his wife and boy were hiding, but he did not dare call to them, as every sound or movement made in the thicket brought a volley from the Indians aimed at the spot.

"A cowboy riding by at a distance saw the burning house and heard the sound of firing at the Missouri-Florida ranch. He set spurs to his horse and rode into Deming. A volunteer party was quickly mustered. Half way to the ranch they came upon the first evidences of the Apaches' work. The carriage of the Yeagers, who had left Deming that afternoon, lay overturned beside the trail, and near it was strewn Mr. Yeager, shot to death and mutilated. Further along they found the body of Mrs. Yeager.

"Hastening on through the gathering darkness, the rescuing party drew near the camp. A frightened, disheveled woman came hurrying along the trail to meet them. It was Mrs. Shy, who, the sound of the firing having long since died away, had crept from the thicket, laid her wounded boy near the embers of the house, thrown over him her calico dress to shield him from the frosty air and now was on her way to Deming for help. For dread that Indians might still be lurking near she had not dared call out for her husband, who she feared was killed. She turned and went back to the ranch with the rescuers, who with calls and signal shots set out to find John Shy. At last their voices reached him and were understood. He appeared from the bushes at the head of the crest, deeply anxious as to the fate of his wife and boy.

"The house burned by the Apaches has never been rebuilt, and the family now live on a ranch several miles away."—Las Vegas Cor. New York Sun.

Counties Named For Presidents.

The personal names bestowed upon the various counties of the United States are, of course, no test of the popularity of such personages, but a review of them is interesting nevertheless. Out of the total of over 1,000 counties 27 bear the name of Washington, 43 that of Jefferson; 21, Jackson; 17, Lincoln, and the same number each for Madison and Monroe; 12, Polk; 10, Grant; 9, Adams and Harrison, and 4 are named for each Garfield, Pierce and Van Buren.—St. Louis Republic.

THE HASKELL SIGN.

A Weather Prognostic in Which the Pennsylvania Dutch Have Faith.

I had a little business in Hackersville, some seven miles from Middletown, Pa., and, although it was one of the most unendurable hot days of a hot summer, I decided to walk the distance. Along toward noon the sun became a trifle hotter than I had expected, and I found a few minutes' shelter from its rays on a rail fence in the shade of a cherry tree by the roadside. In the adjoining field an ancient farmer was hoeing potato hills, and when he had worked his way to where I was sitting he rested on his hoe and remarked in Pennsylvania Dutch:

"Ortlich laes, net?"

"Rather," I answered in English. He altered his vernacular and observed, "But it will be cooler tomorrow."

"Let us hope so."

"Yes," continued the farmer, "tomorrow's in the Haskell, and the Haskell always brings cold."

"What's that?" I inquired rather vaguely.

"Why, tomorrow we're in the Haskell sign, and you can look for cold."

"What's the Haskell sign?" I asked.

The ancient agriculturist studied me with his deep eyes for a moment, then answered: "The Haskell sign means that we're in the Haskell. Next month we have two." And he turned to his potato hills.

"Oh!" I remarked meekly and betook myself from the fence to resume my tramp. When I reached home, I was nearly dead with heat, but I had not forgotten the ancient farmer and his prophecy, so I asked: "What's a Haskell?"

"A Haskell?" said my friend. "What's that?"

"That's what I want to know. A farmer told me they always bring cold weather and that tomorrow's one."

"You mean a Herschel, I guess. Well, I don't know what it means myself. It's a sign in the almanac. Whenever that particular sign is attached to a certain day in the Haskell. Here's an almanac. Maybe you can cipher it out yourself."

I did "cipher" it out and found that it simply meant that the following day the moon and the planet Uranus, or Herschel, as it was formerly called, were to be in conjunction. How the conjunction of this faraway planet and the moon could chase away cold I couldn't understand, but about daybreak next morning as I was awakened by the unusual sensation of foot chilling and reached down to feel of the bed for a blanket I realized for a certainty that the Haskell was getting in its work.—New York Sun.

The Bravest Man.

I recall a travelling companion, an English soldier, a sergeant, who wore the colors of the queen with a smartness that became him. He had been all through the Egyptian and the Sudanese wars and told much of what he had seen, telling it well. We were in the night express, and the others in the carriage slept, in various stages of deshabille and discomfort. The rain beat on the windows, and the train roared and rocked and jangled as it rushed southward. But I only heard the strong voice of my neighbor as he poured out story after story of the two campaigns, and now we laughed, and now we fell to silence for a space as he turned from the wild jollity of his to the sober sudden pathos and spoke of the bravery that went unwarded and the good deeds that could never be recompensed.

"For it ain't the best of us that's decorated," he said, "and, after all, if a fellow drops behind in a rush and has all his wounds in front, what better medal could he have than that?" But I glanced at his breast, and smilingly shook my head. He was willing to tell story after story of what his chums had done and what he had heard of others, but he did not say how he had gained that plain little cross, and he only reddened and grew taciturn when I asked about it. "Twas nothing," he said awkwardly, and there was no further word of it to be got from him; "twas of no consequence. Now, if they had given it to me"—and he plunged into another story, which ended in such a manner that we had both to stare hard out of the window.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Blaine and Gail Hamilton.

Mr. Blaine always liked Gail Hamilton, his wife's cousin, and she was a familiar figure in his Augusta home. Full of sympathy with his ambitions, she helped him and cheered him, besides being Mrs. Blaine's most prized companion. From the time Mr. Blaine became speaker of the house she assisted Mrs. Blaine in doing the honors of her home in Washington. Her wit and her wisdom entertained and instructed the guests of the house. A dinner party at the Blaines would have been bright even if all the guests were dull, with Mr. Blaine, his wife and Miss Dodge to sustain the conversation. But the Blaines seldom had dull guests. Miss Dodge found time to aid in other ways than by helping to entertain. She aided Mrs. Blaine training the children. She aided Mr. Blaine with her advice, which he sought and followed, and with her pen and tongue. She was invaluable to him, and he freely acknowledged it.—Lewiston Journal.

A Sure Sign.

They tell a story about the hotel in a Virginia rural town. It was a hotel where the servants soon bubbling over with anxiety to wait on you—you know how Virginia hotels are. The man ordered a bath prepared for him one night—a warm bath, with an ocean of water and a big dry land towel. He got it. The next night he rang the bell to order another bath. The bellboy who had answered his summons the night before appeared. He expressed surprise at seeing the guest.

"Thought sure you was gone, boss," he said.

"Why did you think that?" asked the man who tells the story.

"Well," said the boy, "you see, you done had a bath last night, and folks don't in generally take a bath unless they're goin' away."—Washington Post.

That Was Different.

"Young man," said the fond father, "in giving you my daughter I have entrusted you with the dearest treasure of my life."

The young man was duly impressed. Then he looked at his watch. "Really," he remarked, "I had no idea it was so late. The cars have stopped. Could I borrow your wheel to get down town?"

"Young man, I would not trust anybody on earth with that wheel."—Indianapolis Journal.

Formality is broken down by the telephone in that the central girl is compelled to answer the addresses of gentlemen no matter how distant she keeps herself.—Philadelphia Times.

Prussia was at first Borussia, the country of the Borussia.

UNANSWERED.

Her eyes are closed that were the door Through which the light had found access To her sweet soul. Forevermore The fair soulhouse is tenanted.

Her eyes are closed, yet in the night That saw her father life begin The watchers knew the clearest light. Just dawned, was that her eyes shut in.

O strangely radiant gates of death, Could we look past you through her eyes Should we too lay aside our breath With such eternal glad surprise?—Charles Buxton Going in Century.

SURE OF FAME.

Writers Who Were Confident They Would Win Immortal Reputations.

It is, of course, pardonable that a great man should have a high opinion of himself, says a recent writer. One cannot find much fault with Wordsworth, even when one reads that he spoke of himself as writing on, though fully assured that his poems would be unpopular, because he knew that they would also be immortal!

Many other poets have laid to their souls the same flattering unction, and have been content to wait for posterity, which, however, has not always been content to read them. Horace, speaking of his odes, said: "I have erected a monument more durable than brass and more regal than the lofty heights of the pyramids," while Shakespeare, in one of his sonnets, used an expression so similar that one suspects it at once of being borrowed:

Not marble nor the gilded monument Of princes shall outlive this lofty rhyme, But you shall shine more bright in these contents Than unswept stone besmeared with sluttish thrice.

Lord Tennyson, too, is reported to have said that the "Bugle Song" in "The Princess" is the finest lyric in the English language. Walter Savage Landor was of opinion that his "Imaginary Conversations" were of such literary value that there had not been five volumes of prose to equal them in 2,600 years. Coming to another sphere of life from that of the poet—the cricket field, to wit—we may mention old Lillywhite, who used to say: "I bow the best ball in England and Mr. Horne bowls the next." It is quite true doubtless but even his truth was overshadowed by his beautiful modesty.

It is related of Victor Hugo that, when quite unknown, he walked into the office of a certain publisher and tried to sell him some poems. The publisher was not in a buying frame of mind, and Victor, as he went out, said: "You have today thrown away a fortune, sir. I was about to make an arrangement with you whereby you would be able to publish everything I shall write in the future. You have lost the opportunity. It is one that will never occur again."—Exchange.

The Ripening of the Wine.

The wine in Switzerland is left in the casks till the following spring, and it is here that fermentation takes place and the must is converted into wine. The change begins almost immediately, the liquid becomes turbid, carbonic acid gas is evolved, a foam is thrown up on the surface, and the temperature rises. A climax is reached, the intensity of the fermentation diminishes, subsides; the foam settles as a slimy deposit at the bottom of the cask, and a clear yellow liquid is left above. The grape sugar has almost entirely disappeared, a corresponding amount of alcohol has taken its place, and the sweet taste of the must has given place to the characteristic vinous flavor of the wine.

In the early stages of fermentation enormous quantities of carbonic acid gas are given off, and huge fires are made in the cellars to drive it away. But at the time I write of, October, 1893, when the vintage was the finest of the century, when barrels to hold the must could not be purchased for love or money, when every cellar on the lake, from Geneva to Villeneuve, was packed with casks of must, so great was the amount of carbonic acid gas in the air that, in spite of every precaution, several deaths from suffocation took place among the workers. In the spring the wine is drawn off clear into other barrels, then bottled. Vin ordinaire is not bottled at all, but simply drawn from the wood. This is the wine sold at all the little wine-shops with which Switzerland abounds. It is drawn off into quaint little glass decanters containing half a liter each and so served to the unhurrying Swiss, who drink it round little tables under the trees on the sunny pathways or over wooden benches inside the red curtained wine-shops.—Cornhill Magazine.

Not a Success.

"Our congressman doesn't seem to amount to much," said the prominent citizen to the politician, who had just returned from Washington.

"He doesn't," replied the politician.

"Doesn't seem to have any influence."

"He hasn't any."

"Is he outclassed in the matter of brains?"

"No. He's as smart as most of them."

"Lacks energy perhaps?"

"Not at all. He's a hard worker and wants to do the best he can."

"Maybe he has none of that personal magnetism that they talk so much about."

"He seems to have as much as the rest of them, but that's not saying much."

"Isn't he a good speaker?"

"Excellent."

"Then what is the trouble with him? You must admit that he lacks something that makes men influential in congress."

"He does. He lacks the one essential qualification for a congressman of influence. He is not built for the life, and he never will be a success in Washington. He never plays poker."—Chicago Post.

Didn't Want to Change.

I met a man yesterday who had just come back from one of those unpronounceable towns up in the Pennsylvania oil regions. He has been spending I don't know how many months among the Swedes up there, and he has a great many things to tell of them. He says that just before he left—I can't remember the town's name—there was a Methodist revival. A great many of the Olsons and Petersens and Knudsen were converted. To one of them, Nels Petersen, the leader of the meeting said, "Nels, will you work for God?" Nels shifted uneasily. A Swede, you know, can't express anything at all with his face, except the national stolidity. "Ae don't grieve," he said hesitatingly. "Ae got a guide job at the factory. Ae tank ae keep dat."—Washington Post.

Virtue is more to man than either water or fire. I have seen men die from treading on water and fire, but I have never seen a man die from treading the course of virtue.—Confucius.

Storm warnings have been displayed in the principal parts of this country without interruption since 1860; in England, since 1861.

Do You Sew?

Then this will interest you. Send 24 cents and receive in return, post-paid, six spools of Willimantic Spool Cotton, any number or color, together with four bobbins for your machine, ready wound, and an instructive book on thread and sewing, Free.

Willimantic Star Thread

is used and endorsed by all leading sewing machine manufacturers. Ask your dealer for it.

WILLIMANTIC THREAD CO., Willimantic, Conn.

THIS DOCTOR IS CREATING A SENSATION Throughout the Country.

His System of Treatments is a Revelation in the Special Practice of Medicine, and is Changing the Views of Thousands of Citizens on the Great Treatments Now Before the American People.

DOCTOR REA,

The Celebrated Specialist, Who created such a sensation in and around Chicago by curing diseases that almost baffled the medical fraternity of the country.

Will visit Stevens Point, at the Jacobs House, MONDAY, JULY 22d, One Day, returning every four weeks for one year.

Consultation, examination and an opinion in every case given free.

Dr. Rea has been connected with the largest hospitals in the country, and has no superior in diagnosing and treating diseases and disorders. He will give $50 for any case where he cannot tell the disease and where located in five minutes. Treats all curable medical and surgical diseases.

Acute and Chronic Catarrh, Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Lung Diseases, including Early Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Constitutional Catarrh, Pleurisy, etc., Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Stomach and Bowel Troubles, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney, Liver, Bladder and Chronic Female Diseases. All serious affections—with symptoms of dizziness, confusion of ideas, loss of sleep, forgetfulness, etc., indigestion, interrupted nutrition, slow growth in children and all wasting diseases in adults.

Noises in the Ear, Catarrhal Deafness, Chronic Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, Hemorrhoids (Piles), treated without the knife. No pain and no detention from business.

Young and Middle-Aged Men Suffering from Spermatorrhea and Impotency, as the result of Self-Abuse in youth or excess in mature years and other causes producing some of the following effects, such as Emissions, Blisters, Debility, Nervousness, Dizziness, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Delicately Memory and Sexual Exhaustion which will the victim for business or marriage, should call and see Dr. REA and get his opinion.

Diseases of Women Treated by our new home treatment, thereby saving the patient the annoyance and embarrassment of local treatment.

Blood and Skin Diseases Treated. DR. REA frankly tells them whether or not he considers the cure curable.

THIS BRAND IS AN ABSOLUTE Guarantee of Excellence

HUNT'S AXE

IS STAMPED AS ABOVE.

EVERY GENUINE HUNT'S AXE

"THE CRYSTAL"

Fred. Hoffman, dealer in—

CHOICE WINES, FINE LIQUORS, GOOD CIGARS.

Nothing but the best goods kept in stock. Free Lunch at all hours of the day or evening.

No. 60 S. Division St., corner Strong's Ave.

CURRAN HOUSE, Stevens Point, Wisconsin.

H. & J. D. Curran, Proprietors.

This house is convenient to all the principal business houses in the city. Good Sample Rooms for traveling salesmen. Free use to and from all trains.

MIEDING'S PHARMACY

DEUTSCHE APOTHEKE.

R. H. MIEDING & CO., (Successors to F. L. Saunders)

—DEALERS IN—

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Toilet Articles, Stationery, PAINTS, OILS, BRUSHES and Wall Paper.

Prescriptions a Specialty.

449 MAIN STREET, NEXT DOOR TO SHANNON'S.

J. D. CURRAN. L. WIENER.

Curran & Wiesner

—dealers in—

HORSES, CATTLE, MULES, ETC.

We receive a car load of horses every week, and have the best stock brought to Wisconsin, including

Driving and Draft Horses, BROOD MARES, ETC.

Our prices will be found right, and we will deal justly with all.

Main Office, Stevens Point. Stables on Brown Street.

PUMPS, WINDMILLS

—and—

Farm Machinery.

On North Third street you will find

A. O. VAUGHN

better than ever prepared to furnish you

Force Pumps, Wood and Steel Windmills, Kalamazoo Tubulars, Garden Hose, Hay Rakes and Forks, Cultivators, Plows, Spring Tooth Harrows, Feed Cutters, Feed Mill Horse Powers, Binder Twine, Machine Oils, &c., &c.

Also Agent for Champion and Osborne Harvesting Machinery, and Springfield and J. I. Case Threshing Machines.

Repairs for all machines on hand and work promptly done and All Work Warranted.

W. E. Langenberg, manuf'r and dealer in all kinds of

Red Pressed, Building and Fire BRICK

Also dealer in

White Lime, Plastering Hair, Adamant, Wall Plaster, Stuccos, Cements, &c.

Goods delivered to any part of the city free of charge, and orders from abroad promptly attended to. Write for our price list. Telephone: Office, No. 46; Works, No. 77. Office 105 First Street. Stevens Point, Wis.

ALBERT V. FETTER, High Grade Plumbing, Steam and Hot Water Heating. 436 Main St. Stevens Point, Wis.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

WISCONSIN CENTRAL

Arrival and departure of trains from Stevens Point:

ASHLAND AND ST. PAUL
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger.....1:40 a.m.
Freight.....7:30 a.m.
GOING NORTH.
Passenger.....8:30 a.m.
Freight.....1:40 p.m.

CHICAGO AND MILWAUKEE
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger.....1:40 a.m.
Freight.....7:30 a.m.
GOING NORTH.
Passenger.....8:30 a.m.
Freight.....1:40 p.m.

PORTAGE DIVISION
GOING SOUTH.
Passenger.....1:40 a.m.
Freight.....7:30 a.m.
GOING NORTH.
Passenger.....8:30 a.m.
Freight.....1:40 p.m.

FREIGHT TRAINS
St. P. and Chgo. Falls.....5:00 p.m.
St. P. and Chgo. Falls.....5:00 p.m.
St. P. and Chgo. Falls.....5:00 p.m.

Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul R. R.
Time table taking effect Sunday, Dec. 8th, 1895.

THE GAZETTE.

AMHERST JUNCTION.
Cottages are in great demand at the lake.
A. M. Nelson has put up a horse stable at Lake Emily.
Our school board has adopted the Werner series of school books.
A pleasant dancing party was given by Mike Lutz, last Saturday evening.
Next Sunday there will be one of the largest picnics at Lake Emily that has ever been there.
The harvesting of small grain is nearly completed, which is about two weeks earlier than usual.
The new school house will be 32x44 and one story high. It will be brick veneered. Bids are now in order.
Pat Sullivan came over for legal consultation last Tuesday. He had neglected to appoint a weed commissioner. The fine will be only $50.

BUENA VISTA.
Crops are in a growing condition.
Lester Cater, M. Crofoot and Wm. Edwards are on the sick list.
Merritt Worden and family are rejoicing over a ten pound girl at their home. All concerned doing well.
The game of ball at Pleasant Valley was interesting. Although the Liberty Corner "Quick Steps" were absent in a measure on account of sickness, they were not missed in the game.
The Christian Crusaders have cleared the grounds, erected some tents and made other preparations for the camp meeting near the Moore barn. There will be twenty-two Crusaders on the grounds. Services to commence Friday evening, July 26th.
Mrs. Maria Duncan died at the home of her brother, Alfred Buzard, July 18th, 1895, after three days illness of dropsy, at the age of 58 years. Mrs. Duncan leaves two sons, Eugene and Edwin, both of this place and one brother. The funeral was held from the M. E. church at Liberty, last Saturday, Rev. Olson officiating. The pall bearers were J. and A. Precourt, J. Carden, P. McMillin, J. Dineen and M. Scanlan, with interment beside her husband at Waupaca. The surviving relatives have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of a kind and cherished mother.

POLOVER.
Mrs. A. B. Chesley is visiting friends at Fremont.
Bertha Bremmer has been spending a few days at Arnott.
Mrs. Emerson now occupies the Olds house on Main street.
Wm. Carley is building a new potato ware house at Arnott.
Camp Meeting will commence near the Moore place next Friday.
Miss Archer has returned from a few weeks outing in Belmont.
Judge Murat passed through town yesterday on his way to Grant.
Dr. Tillson is kept quite busy, attending his numerous patients.
Wm. Carley has some fine land plaster, which is for sale cheap.
Wilnot Pierce is attending the Stevens Point Business College.
Warren Pratt, of Bancroft, has been spending a few days in town.
Tom Ellis has returned home, after a few months work in Gladstone.
Mrs. D. V. Bean and two children are spending a few days with friends here.
Haying in the big meadow is in full blast, and about every spear will be cut.
Leslie Smith has quit work on the section, and gone to his home in Vernon county.
Tom Newby has bought the large Clark hay barn here and is filling the same with hay.
Gene Sutherland, of Minneapolis, spent a few hours with relatives here one day last week.
Plover now has two meat markets, and you can get most anything you want in that line.
Robt. Potter left for his home at Whitewater, after a few weeks visit to his brother, Prof. Potter.
Frank Billiter and family, of Minneapolis, spent a few hours at the Warner house, last Sunday.
Mrs. Doloff, Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Wey, of your city, were the guests of Mrs. H. N. Warner, last Thursday.
Herman Sanborn and family now reside at Combined Locks, where he had a job in the paper mill, but he is now laid off on account of the mill shutting down for water.

Rev. Bullock, of Almond, was in town a few hours yesterday between trains.
A. E. Bourn has sold two car loads of the celebrated McCormick mowers, reapers and binders.
Plover is not quite as dry a town as some people think. We have had some good rains lately.
Miss Graham, of Milwaukee, has been spending a week here with her father, A. F. Graham of the W. C. lines. Miss Graham is a teacher in the Milwaukee schools, and made many friends while here who would be pleased to have her return.
If the Amherst base ball nine have got any sand, they can have a game with the Plover nine for all the money they want to put up. Some of the correspondents have been playing ball with their mouths over there, but they would not be in it if they will just say they want to play ball.

BADGER.
Miss Julia Hanson is visiting at Mary McTigue's.
Will Holman traded horses with Will Ward, last Sunday.
Miss Mina Wordon is visiting at Tessa Cooney's, this week.
Anyone wishing to trade horses can find what he wants at L. Cooney's and John Peterson's sale stables, Madeley.
There was a ball game Saturday between the Almonds and Lanarks, the latter coming out victorious. The score stood Almond 10, Lanark 13. The game was played on Black Diamond's place.
A lively runaway occurred here on Saturday. A span of broncos, driven by Miss Agnes Leahy, of Madely, and Miss Ella Colfax, of Belmont, ran away and both were thrown from the wagon and injured quite badly. That was the second time that Miss Leahy had the misfortune to be in a runaway. Both are doing well at present.

AMHERST.
The board of review finished up their work last Monday.
"War and rumors of war," but nobody is going to be hurt.
The new meat market on Mill street commenced business last Tuesday.
Miss Arlie Cass, of Marshfield, has been engaged to teach in joint school district No. 9.
Will Simcox and wife, of Menominee, Mich., are visiting with their parents in this place.
Don't go for Gust., for he knows nothing about the new street, but call on Edwin and Cyrus.
Frederick Davis died at his residence on Mill street, last Friday morning, aged 61 years.
James Paris, the veteran barber of Waupaca, was in town this week with a view of starting in business.
Goodmunson C. Riste died at the residence of his son, Christopher, on Tuesday, July 16th, aged 82 years.
The social given by the ladies of the M. E. church, in the churchyard, last Saturday evening, netted them $12.
The Portage county fair will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24th, 25th and 26th.
The free show tent has gone to Centralia, but many of our citizens laid in a stock of electric belts and dime soap to last until fall.
The W. C. Co. business car occupied the side track for a couple of hours, one day last week, and the officers, Whitcomb, Morris, Collins and Marsh, took a walk over their grounds. They came to the conclusion that this place needs a better passenger depot.

AFTER a very brief deliberation, the jury in the case of the state against Robt. Luscombe, who killed his brother-in-law, Emil Sanger, at Milwaukee, a couple of months ago, brought in a verdict of not guilty. From the very commencement of the case, it was a foregone conclusion that the defendant would be acquitted.

The school census of Portage is 1,681, against 1,950 one year ago, and the people of that city are wondering why there is a decrease, when an increase should be the result. Ten years ago Portage had almost as many children, lacking only eight. There's something wrong down there, although it is one of the prettiest and neatest little towns in the west.

SENATOR David B. Hill has expressed belief that the year 1896 will witness one of the most memorable democratic victories recorded in history. No man in this country understands better than he does the drift of politics and public opinion. Senator Hill, while having the reputation of a tricky man in his campaigns, has always been candid and sincere in the expression of his opinion.

The Milwaukee Telegraph, a clear-cut Republican sheet, looks upon one of the mistakes of its party in the following sober manner: "Before Republican editors expend too much time and energy in defending the legislature for relieving the ex-treasurers from their indebtedness to the state, they had better read over Republican platforms and casually glance at the speech made in this city by Colonel John C. Spooner, last September, which speech was so loudly and so long cheered by the thousands of Republicans present that bushels of cough medicine and barrels of beer were required to restore their throats to their former wholesome state. Brother, it may not be a mess, but at this distance it looks like one. Stump speakers might begin now to devise ways and means by which to satisfy their republican audiences that just the right thing has been done."

Every day throughout the summer! Free to all! Come and enjoy yourself! The undersigned has fixed up a cool and shady grove, at his place of business two miles north of Stevens Point, on the Wisconsin river, and near the boom house, and he cordially invites everybody to come up and spend a pleasant day or evening. Just the place for picnic parties. All necessary tables and benches can be used without cost. Everything in the line of refreshments can be had, such as beer, cider, soda, wines, lemonade and lunches. Accommodations for horses and carriages on the grounds. Come once and you will come again. Remember the place, first saloon on west side of river.

TAKE NOTICE.
Hay on the following described lands is for sale by Geo. McMullins: South 1/2 sec. 27, town 22, r3e.; south 1/2 sec. 26, town 22, r3e.; north 1/2 sec. 35, town 22, r3e.; All persons are cautioned against cutting hay on the above described lands. June 26th, 1895.
GEO. McMULLINS, Agt.

Grove Grounds Open.
Every day throughout the summer! Free to all! Come and enjoy yourself! The undersigned has fixed up a cool and shady grove, at his place of business two miles north of Stevens Point, on the Wisconsin river, and near the boom house, and he cordially invites everybody to come up and spend a pleasant day or evening. Just the place for picnic parties. All necessary tables and benches can be used without cost. Everything in the line of refreshments can be had, such as beer, cider, soda, wines, lemonade and lunches. Accommodations for horses and carriages on the grounds. Come once and you will come again. Remember the place, first saloon on west side of river.

PARTY PLEDGES BROKEN.
After "mature deliberation and consultation with eminent legal authority," Atty. General Mylrea has decided to relieve the three ex-treasurers, McFetridge, Kuehn and Baetz, from their obligations to the state. Mr. Mylrea came to this sudden decision on Tuesday of last week, and the facts were alluded to in our last issue. Thus the dear people, the poor taxpayers are mulcted out of just $219,547.19 and all owing to the action of the worst legislature that ever convened at Madison. That this action will relieve the Republican party of Wisconsin for at least another four years, there should be no doubt. The party and its leaders made some pretty promises just before election, which they proceeded to smash at the earliest opportunity. The following is a nice one to post in your hat for perpetual reference:
Republican platform, 1894: It (the convention) denounces as without foundation and intended only to mislead the voters of Wisconsin, the statement so often made and reiterated by the Democratic press and Republican success involves a surrender or compromise of whatever legal rights the courts may hold of in favor of the state upon the bonds of the ex-treasurers, and pledges itself, if it shall be entrusted with the executive and legislative power in the state, to the legal rights of the people in the premises.
John C. Spooner's speech, Milwaukee, Sept. 14, 1892: Now it is being stated all over this state that the Republican party succeeds in this fall the treasury funds will be settled and this money won't be collected. The party has stated in its platform, what it need not have stated, if it shall be successful in this campaign, every dollar that the supreme court holds the state is entitled to will be collected and paid into the treasury.

JOS. TREMMEL, a saloon-keeper at Marshfield, invited some twenty of his friends to spend an evening as his guests. All had a good time, Tremmel being one of the happiest in the crowd to all appearances. Tremmel lived in the same building, and after the guests had departed, his wife tried to persuade him to retire, but instead of doing so he sent a bullet crashing through his brain, dying instantly.

The following patents were granted to Wisconsin inventors, as reported by Benedict & Morsell, Solicitors of Patents, 102 Wisconsin street, Milwaukee: John Banderob, Oshkosh refrigerator; C. Christensen, Racine, steam engine governor; C. J. Farnam, asgr., La Crosse, mitten and knitting same; W. S. Johnson, Milwaukee (2 patents) mechanical movement and heat regulating apparatus; Andrew Munger, Evanville, gate hanger; O. P. Olson Oshkosh, pump; Mathias Strack, Milwaukee, corn holder.

TODAY twenty-five years ago, said the Milwaukee Journal of last Friday, the Franco-German war was begun with the fiery address of King William to the parliament of the North German bund, which was responded to with equal fervor by the representative bodies of the South German states, so that the German nation for the first time in history stood ready to defend its national integrity and independence. The events that followed are matters of history. The professions of the old King that the war was begun for the sake of peace has been verified by the conservative policy of Germany since, and it is safe to say that the whole world has shared in its blessings.

The progress in arts and sciences, in commerce and in all other branches of human activity, has never been so great as since the Teutons gained the supremacy in Europe. It offers a guaranty for lasting peace, which is the greatest glory that may be achieved by a nation.

DUN'S Review for Saturday says that the week's news is not entirely encouraging, but is all the more natural because there are signs of mid-summer dullness. Wheat prospects are not quite so good as last week, but still there are lower prices, as corn and cotton have been lowered. The exports of gold and the less favorable Treasury returns for July are not unexpected and mean nothing as to coming business. There is perceptible decrease in the demand for most manufactured products, and the actual distribution to consumers naturally lessens in midsummer. Much of the recent buying was to anticipate a rise in prices, and such purchases fall off when prices have risen. There are still numerous advances in wages, but strikes grow more numerous and important. In part because business was unusually large in the first half of July, a quiet tone meets reasonable expectations.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

WHAT IS LIFE.
The following beautiful lines, collected by a lady resident of our city, represent many hours of hard work, covering a space of several months, and are worthy of careful perusal. Each line is a quotation from one of the standard authors of England and America, and the number of the line refers to the name of its author below.
1. Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour?
2. Life's a short summer, man a flower.
3. By Tuna we catch the vital breath and die.
4. The cradle and the tomb, alas! so nigh.
5. To be better than not to be.
6. Though all men's lives may seem a tragedy.
7. But light can speak where words might fail.
8. The bottom is but shallow where they come.
9. You are as but the common fate of all.
10. Unmolested joys have never been known.
11. Nature to each allots its proper sphere.
12. Fortune makes jolly her peculiar care.
13. Custom does often overrule.
14. And thou art sure to find a fool.
15. Live well; how long or short, permit to heaven.
16. They who forgive most shall be most forgiven.
17. Sin may be clasped so close we cannot see its face.
18. Vice intercourse where virtue has no part.
19. Then keep each passion down, however dear.
20. Thou pendulum betwixt a smile and tear.
21. Her sensual snares let faithless pleasure lay.
22. With craft and skill to ruin and betray.
23. Scar not so high to reach, but stoop to rise.
24. We master grow of all that we despise.
25. O, there, renounce that impious self-esteem.
26. Riches have wings and grandeur is a dream.
27. Think not ambition wise because 'tis brave.
28. The paths of glory lead but to the grave.
29. What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious cheat.
30. Only destructive to the brave and great.
31. What's all the gaudy glitter of a crown?
32. The way of bliss lies not on beds of down.
33. How long we live, not years but actions count.
34. That man lives twice who lives the first life well.
35. Make then, while yet you may, your riches poor.
36. Whom Christians worship, yet not comprehend.
37. The trust that's given guard, and to your good use.
38. For live how we can, but die we must.
1. Young; 2. Dr. Johnson; 3. Pope; 4. Prior; 5. Sewall; 6. Spencer; 7. Daniel; 8. Sir Walter Scott; 9. Longfellow; 10. Southwell; 11. Congreve; 12. Churchill; 13. Rochester; 14. Armstrong; 15. Milton; 16. Butler; 17. French; 18. Somerville; 19. Thompson; 20. Byron; 21. Smollett; 22. Crabbe; 23. Marston; 24. Cowlett; 25. Beattie; 26. Cowper; 27. Sir Walter Raleigh; 28. Dryden; 29. William Mason; 30. Gell; 31. Danie; 32. Shakespeare.

THE weather conditions during the past week were all that could be desired, both for growing crops and the harvesting of the matured ones. The temperature was about normal, and while there were a few hot days, the heat was not excessive, and just enough rain fell to revive vegetation without greatly injuring the gathered grain. The principal weather future was the arrival of the looked for rain. Good showers occurred in various portions of the state, those of the 18th being the most general and severe, and in the northwest portion were accompanied by hail and high winds, which badly lodged the rank growth of wheat and barley. The damages from this source were confined to narrow limits, and a very large area was favored by gentle showers, which came in a way to do the greatest possible amount of good. Harvesting has progressed finely and crops are being secured in excellent condition, and generally speaking are entirely satisfactory. Winter wheat, rye and barley are about all cut and threshers are at work, except in the more northern counties where crops are not quite as far advanced, there are yet some fields to be harvested. Oats are coming on rapidly and in some of the southern counties the oat harvest is well under way. The crop is turning out well and much better than was expected. Barley is everywhere reported good, and many are of the opinion that this year's crop was never excelled. A few fields were damaged by chinch bugs, but not seriously. Rye is somewhat better than was expected though the crop, with a few exceptions, is considerably below an average one. The earliest sown grains are generally in a better condition than those sown late. Corn has been greatly benefited by the recent rains and is making a remarkably fine growth.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

THE POINT OF VIEW.
"What do you think of it?" asked the artist as he exhibited his latest bit of work.
"Do you really want to know?" asked the critic, as if anxious to avoid giving pain.
"Yes," replied the artist resolutely.
"You will not be offended if I speak frankly?"
"I will not."
"Then," said the critic, "I do not hesitate to say that it is the most diabolical, hideous nightmare that I ever saw. In my opinion it resembles nothing so much as a drunkard's vision."
"Is that your honest opinion?" asked the artist, as if loath to believe it.
"It is," replied the critic. "And what makes it worse is that you are capable of really good work."
"I know it is out of my usual line and methods," admitted the artist, "but I thought—I thought—"
"Well?"
"Why, I thought I'd just try my hand at posters, in view of the fact that—"
"Posters!" exclaimed the critic. "Let me look at that again." Then, after a critical examination: "My boy, it is sublime—superb! Your reputation is as good as made now. Why didn't you say 'posters' in the first place?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Card.
To the many kind friends who so thoughtfully tendered their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, we wish to return our heartfelt thanks.
MR. AND MRS. M. G. MILLER AND CHILDREN.

Lower Than Ever.
CHEAP JOHN is now in New York buying a new stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Boots, Etc., and to make room for new goods he will sell his stock of goods below cost. The CHEAP SALE will begin SATURDAY, JULY 27TH.

All goods must be sold at the Lowest prices before Cheap John returns from New York. Below we give a few of our prices:

MEN'S SUITS,	from $2.00 up
MEN'S PANTS,	worth $1.00, now 50 cents per pair
MEN'S PANTS,	worth $1.75, now 60 cents per pair
BOYS' SUITS,	from 50 cents up
LADIES' FINE SHOES,	from 45 cents up
CHILDREN'S SHOES,	from 15 cents up
MEN'S SHOES,	from 75 cents up
MEN'S FINE SLIPPERS,	40 cents a pair
MEN'S FINE PATENT LEATHER SHOES,	worth $4.00, now $1.75
MEN'S SOCKS,	2 cents a pair
GOOD LINEN TOWELING,	3 cents a yard
FINE SILK UMBRELLAS,	50 cents each

ALL OTHER GOODS ACCORDINGLY.

CHEAP JOHN.
Third Street, next to Betlach's Meat Market.

OUR MARKETS.
(Grain and feed quotations are given us by telephone every Wednesday noon, by The Jackson Milling Co., while V. Betlach furnishes the prices on meats, butter, etc., and Gerdes & Breitenstein the prices on hay and potatoes, and farmers and buyers can depend on them.)
Barley.....75 cts
Ear Corn.....45 cts
Flour.....42.25
Patent Flour.....41.50
Rye Flour.....37.50
Graham.....42.25
Rye.....45 cts
Oats.....30 cts
Rolled Corn Meal.....21.00
Coarse Corn Meal, per ton.....22.00
Middlings.....17.00
Seed, per ton.....22.00
Brn.....35.00
Butter.....15 cts
Eggs.....10 cts
Chickens.....$ to 12 cts
Turkeys.....10 cts
Lard.....10 cts
Mess Pork.....$14.00
Mess Beef.....20.00
Hogs live.....$ to 5 cts
Hogs dressed.....$ to 5 cts
Beef live.....$ to 3 cts
Beef dressed.....$ to 5 cts
Hams.....12 cts
Tallow.....10 cts
Potatoes.....35 cts
Hay, Timothy.....$12.00
Hay, marsh.....$7.00

WHEN an individual attempts to break down another individual's credit by misrepresenting his business affairs the libeled individual can appeal to the courts and by proving the libel have the libeler punished. But the United States government has no such redress. When an apparently concerted attempt to injure the credit of the government and bring on another financial panic, such as is now being made by those republican newspapers which are printing sensational, and in many instances entirely false, accounts of the government's financial affairs, the government can only appeal to the common sense and fairness of the people. There is nothing either alarming or unexpected in the present condition of the government's finances. As was expected the expenditures during the first half of July were largely in excess of the receipts. The reason is obvious. Of the $29,000,000 which have been paid out this month $11,000,000 has gone to pay pensions, about $7,000,000 to pay interest on bonds, including those of the Pacific railroads, and more than $6,000,000 has been paid under the appropriations made by the last Congress which became available on the first of July. Some republican papers, in their anxiety to bring on another financial panic, or at least stop the revival of business now sweeping over the country, have gone so far as to say that the revenues of the government were falling off. Partisanship is no excuse for such willful misstatement as that. On the contrary, the revenues are increasing, those for the first of July being much larger than the receipts for the same period last year. The U. S. Treasury is all right, and likely to remain so as long as it is in charge of democrats.

For Rent.
The Hall lately occupied by the Catholic Knights, suitable for society or club. Apply to M. CLIFFORD.

List of Unclaimed Letters
Remaining at the Stevens Point Post Office, July 23, 1895. If not called for in two weeks from the date here given, they will be forwarded to the Dead Letter Office at Washington:
Bart, Mr. Will Breckenridge, Master Harry
Cheney, Maria
Kerndt, Sarah
Hunt, Julius
Jackson, Andrew
Kreisel, Mary (2)
Peltier, Mrs. Marie
Rios, Ann
Parties calling for the above letters will please say "advertised."
JOHN FINCH, P. M.

A twelve room house, centrally located, for sale on reasonable terms. Enquire at this office. tf

Half a cent buys enough SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT for two coats on one square foot of surface.

FOR SALE BY THE H. D. McCULLOCH CO.

Strictly Pure
PARIS GREEN
at McCulloch's.
Small Quantities at Wholesale Prices.